Dear Traveler,

Join us on a romantic voyage to some of the Mediterranean's most beautiful and illuminating sites. Setting out from Venice's Grand Canal, our route will take us to cities on the Adriatic coast, in the Greek Isles, and on the Turkish coast that are poised in the magical spot between history and myth, and which link the medieval Mediterranean with the ancient world.

Explore the Palace of Diocletian, the heart of the Dalmatian coastal city of Split, where shops, cafés, and homes flourish within 4th-century A.D. chambers. Stroll through the impeccably preserved medieval gem of Dubrovnik; discover lovely Kotor, set amid Europe's southernmost fjord; and investigate the UNESCO World Heritage site of Butrint. Also visit the Palace of Knossos, where Theseus came to slay the Minotaur; ascend to the mountain-wreathed shrine of Delphi; and look out over the multihued cliffs of Santorini, where the Minoans achieved their artistic zenith.

In Ephesus, stand in the Amphitheater where St. Paul spoke, and in Philippi, see where Brutus and Cassius fell. The voyage culminates among the ruins of Troy, where we'll ask: Is this where Achilles fell, and the "topless towers" were scorched? Disembarking in Istanbul from the all-suite Corinthian II, gaze out upon the palaces and minarets, and consider: These legendary places are ours, for they are part of our history now, too.

Sincerely,

Ted L. Myers '76, Chair, Alumni Adventures Committee

CARLETON COLLEGE LECTURER

NANCY WILKIE is a distinguished archaeologist and professor who has lectured on numerous study programs throughout the Mediterranean. Nancy is the William H. Laird Professor of Classics, Anthropology, and the Liberal Arts, and Co-Director of the Archaeology Concentration at Carleton College in Northfield, MN, where she has been on the faculty since 1974. A graduate of Stanford University (1964), Nancy received her M.A. and Ph.D. (1975) from the University of Minnesota. She began her archaeological career in 1968 when she joined a pioneering program of survey and excavation in the region of the Palace of Nestor at Pylos in Greece. Since then Nancy has worked on archaeological projects in Greece, Egypt, and Nepal, and has authored more than 30 articles and co-edited three books on archaeology. Nancy is currently a member of the Cultural Property Advisory Committee of the U.S. Department of State. This committee advises the President on requests from foreign governments for import restrictions on their antiquities under the 1970 UNESCO Convention on the Means of Prohibiting and Preventing the Illicit Import, Export and Transfer of Cultural Property.

GUEST LECTURER

DOROTHY DRUMMOND, lecturer for the American Geographical Society, is an author and popular educator, now retired from teaching Geography at Indiana State University and Saint Mary-of-the-Woods College. A world traveler, former president of the National Council for Geographic Education, and member of the Society of Women Geographers, in recent years she has focused on the eastern and central Mediterranean. In addition to several textbooks and numerous encyclopedia articles, Professor Drummond is the author of Holy Land, Whose Land? Modern Dilemma, Ancient Roots. She will discuss the dynamic history and amazingly varied physical and cultural geography of the areas we visit.

CORINTHIAN II

*The Ideal Combination of Cruise-Ship
Grandeur and Small-Ship Intimacy*

In an era of mega cruise ships that carry thousands of passengers, the Corinthian II is a delightful alternative. More like a private yacht than a cruise ship, Corinthian II accommodates only 114 guests in 57 suites. Corinthian II's limited guest capacity, fine facilities, and distinctive style of operation attract like-minded travelers who return again and again to enjoy its custom-crafted itineraries and a style of cruising that is rarely found today. More than just a cruise, each voyage provides a comprehensive experience that reveals the singular aspects of the destinations. Aboard, a sense of community and a spirit of camaraderie prevail.

All of Corinthian II's suites face outside, providing views of the sea and landscape.

Several have a private balcony. There are expansive open deck areas and other facilities, including a gym, library, beauty salon, two lounges, a sun deck with Jacuzzi, and an outdoor cafe. A spacious restaurant accommodates all guests in an open, unassigned seating. The cuisine is outstanding, and the overall service is efficient and friendly while unobtrusive. An elevator serves all decks. A resident physician attends a well-equipped infirmary.

Served by 70 seasoned officers and crew, Corinthian II complies with the latest international safety regulations and is outfitted with the most current navigational technology.
