

Summer Writing Program Release and Waiver

I certify that I (the undersigned) am the parent/legal guardian of this Summer Writing Program participant and I allow my minor to participate.

The undersigned hereby acknowledges that participation in the above named activity may involve inherent risk of physical injury and assumes all such risks. The undersigned hereby agrees to participate in the above named activity for which or in connection with which the College has made available any equipment, facilities, lab experiments, grounds, travel or personnel for such programs or activities, the undersigned does hereby release and forever discharge Carleton College, its trustees, officers, agents, employees, and volunteers of any and all known and unknown, foreseen and unforeseen bodily and personal injuries, damage to property, and the consequence thereof, resulting from my minor in or any way connected with the above named activity.

By the execution of this agreement, I accept and assume full responsibility for any and all injuries, damages, and losses of any type, which may offer to my minor, and I hereby fully and forever agree to indemnify and hold harmless Carleton College, its trustees, officers, agents, employees, and volunteers from any and all claims, demands, damages, rights of action, present and future, whether the same be known or unknown, anticipated or unanticipated, resulting from or arising out of the minor's participation in this program.

I acknowledge that I have read and understand this agreement, that I have executed this agreement voluntarily, and that this agreement is to be binding upon my minor, myself, my heirs, executors, administrators, and representatives in the event of death or incapacity.

Campus Living Rules

The Carleton Summer Writing Program has college-level academic expectations. Reading and writing assignments will be equal to what you might find in a rigorous academic program.

Our expectations about student behavior, however, in the dormitories and in relation to program staff and one another, are more like those of a private preparatory school. Because most of the students in the program are under the age of 18, the adults directing the program are considered in loco parentis—in place of your parents. It is necessary to adhere to the following rules because of the brevity of the program and the need to have participants fresh and rested to do good work on papers in class.

Failure to comply with these rules may result in dismissal from the program at your family's expense. Please read the following rules with your parents and then sign and return the form to our office.

Summer Writing Program Rules

The Summer Writing Program is a residential program that requires full-time residence at the College, including weekends, for the duration of the program. Students are required to remain on campus and in the surrounding Northfield area for the entire program. Only in cases of emergency, with the approval of the program director and parental clearance, may students take time away from the program. No exceptions will be made.

Weekend activities such as field trips are considered part of the program for all students.

Quiet hours in the dormitories begin at 10 p.m. Sunday through Thursday, and at midnight on Friday and Saturday.

The following hours will be maintained:

Sunday – Thursday

10 p.m. All students must be in their dormitories

11 p.m. All students must be on their floor

Midnight Lights out

Friday – Saturday

Midnight All students must be in their dormitories

1 a.m. Lights out

Summer Writing Program Rules (Continued)

We are obligated to obey the curfew law established by the City of Northfield. This law prohibits minors from being out of their residences after midnight.

Men and women live in separate dormitories. Students will have access only to their assigned dorms. The first-floor lounge in the men's dorm may be used for group activities or studying before 10 p.m. on weeknights and midnight on weekends or during organized activities planned by residential staff members. Men are prohibited from the women's dorm at all times. Women are prohibited from the men's residential floors at all times.

There is to be no use of alcohol or drugs during the program. Students found with those substances, or found attempting to purchase and/or use such substances, will be immediately dismissed from the program.

Smoking is not allowed in dorm rooms, hallways, lounges, classroom buildings, or in the library. Food and drink are forbidden in the library.

Students may not use cell phones during the academic day or during other organized activities.

If you bring a car to the Summer Writing Program, it must be left parked in the designated area throughout the program. All car keys must be given to the director of activities and residential life for the duration of the program. No one may drive or ride in cars brought to campus by program participants for the duration of the program.

Non-program participants who would like to visit program participants can do so during designated visiting hours, generally on Sunday and Thursday afternoons.

Carleton College and the Summer Writing Program prohibit sexual assault and sexual harassment. In addition to being prohibited, sexual assault is a crime.

I have read and understand the rules as set forth by the Carleton Summer Writing Program and have read and understand the cancellation policy that is found on the website and on the acceptance form. If my son/daughter is released from the program, I agree to pay for his/her travel from the program immediately.
