

The Richard T. Newman '49
Family Fund for Language Internships
Newman Language Scholarship

Richard T. Newman '49 and his family have established a fund to support and encourage Carleton students to pursue internships in foreign countries that can lead to career opportunities in the field of foreign languages. This is the second year of a five year scholarship program. The primary language used in the internship must be one of the seven modern languages offered at Carleton: Chinese, French, German, Hebrew, Japanese, Russian, and Spanish. The awards were given competitively and selected by a faculty committee. Upon completion of the internships, recipients will give an on-campus presentation about their experiences.

The Career Center is pleased to announce three winners of the award for Summer 2006:

Nate Chappelle '07

On the Tahoe-Baikal Institute's Summer Exchange Program, Nate will be working on watershed conservation, sustainable development, and cultural exchange at Lake Baikal in Siberia, Russia and at Lake Tahoe in California and Nevada. During approximately 10 weeks from June to August, Nate will learn about the natural and cultural history of the Tahoe and Baikal watersheds, as well as current initiatives in environmental science and policy. Through small-group investigative projects, restoration work, meetings with experts and interactive workshops that simulate environmental problem-solving scenarios, participants from Russia and North America will apply their diverse skills and observe how political, legal, and administrative bodies work together with researchers, academic organizations, nonprofits, businesses, and residents to promote environmental protection.

Eric Reich '09

Eric was accepted as an intern at two events which are arguably the largest and most prestigious French-speaking international music festivals in the world. The International Piano Festival of La Roque d'Antheron in the small southern village of La Roque d'Antheron stands out today as an indisputable event in the world of piano performance. The other festival, the Colmar International Festival in the west near the German border, which offers a rich program of 24 classical music concerts as well as a ten-day music Academy, constitutes a cultural event of national and international importance. Eric's duties will include writing articles in their daily publications and translating press releases. Eric will be in France for 8-1/2 weeks.

Zhengying (Alice) Song '08

Alice will be working as a summer intern at DEMOS Group (Paris, France) for five weeks starting mid-July. This is a French firm providing services in management consulting, business training, and pedagogical tools development. Alice's duties will include helping DEMOS build its cross-cultural management courses (for French and Chinese banks) and facilitating the communication between the firm's Asian clients and its French experts.
