

If You Think You May Have Been Sexually Harassed or Assaulted...

You Can Talk To

SWAs, RAs, and GSCAs

Wellness Center and Chaplain's Office

Campus Peer Advocates (CAASHA)

Staff/Faculty/Security

Northfield Hospital or Rice County HOPE Center

Northfield Police

Can I get support?

Yes, and they will refer you to the Wellness Center.

Yes, support is provided on an ongoing basis. Please inform the receptionist regarding the urgency of seeking an appointment.

Yes, and they will provide you with general support and give you referrals to campus and local resources as requested.

Yes, and they will refer you to the Wellness Center.

Yes, immediate support and follow-up support are provided through the SAFE program and HOPE Center.

Yes, the police will provide referrals to support agencies.

Will they report the incident to college officials?

No, but they will consult with The Wellness Center and inform their supervisors using non-identifying terms

No, information is confidential whether you talk to a counselor, medical provider, or the Chaplain.

No, but with your permission, an Advocate may confer with a confidential Wellness Center counselor or medical provider.

Yes, they must report to the Dean of Students Office.

No, neither SAFE nor HOPE Center Advocates are required to report to the College.

No, not to college officials, but non-identifying information will be placed in public reports.

Must this lead to a formal complaint?

No, but it can if you choose to file a complaint.

No, but you receive information about the process and support if you choose to file a complaint.

No, but an Advocate can support you through the process if you choose to file a formal complaint.

It depends on the circumstances, such as whether safety is an issue, and you will have a choice as to how the College proceeds.

No, but if you choose SAFE nurses collect evidence up to 120 hours following the incident and save it if you choose to file a formal legal complaint.

No, you will be offered options about how you would like to proceed.