Tuesday, January 10
Abuzz with Excitement:
Building the Consciousness Creative Campus
Arts Planning Committee—Scott Bierman, Dean of the College (Mister Vision); Laurel Bradley, Director of Exhibitions and Curator of the College Art Collection, Lecturer in Art and Art History; Robin Hart Ruthenbeck, Director of Campus Activities; Greg Smith, Professor of English; and others
ALUMNI GUEST HOUSE MEETING ROOM, NOON–1:30 PM
LUNCH PROVIDED FOR 50
*Rob Oden, in his charge to the Arts Planning Committee, December 2004: "The campus, alumni, and trustees should be abuzz with excited and engaged conversation about the future of the arts at Carleton with you as the central leaders of that conversation." http://apps.carleton.edu/campus /doc/assets/ArtsReport.pdf

Wednesday, January 19
International Insights on Undergraduate Education at Carleton and Abroad
Beverly Nagel, Associate Dean of the College, and other faculty members
ALUMNI GUEST HOUSE MEETING ROOM, NOON–1:30 PM
LUNCH PROVIDED FOR 50

Thursday, January 24
A Diversity Mission Statement for Carleton:
Open Discussion of Proposal
Djara Meehan, Assistant Dean of Admissions; Al Montero, Associate Professor of Political Science; John Ramsay, Associate Dean of the College; Alfreda Sánchez '66; Kaaren Williamsen-Garvey, Director of Gender and Sexuality Center; and other members of the Diversity Initiative Group (DIG) subcommittee on the mission statement
Cosponsored by DIG
ALUMNI GUEST HOUSE MEETING ROOM, NOON–1:30 PM
LUNCH PROVIDED FOR 50

Tuesday, February 7
Numbers of Words about Numbers with Words: How Faculty are Integrating Quantitative Thinking and Writing in Their Courses
Adriana Estill, Assistant Professor of English and American Studies; Tammy Feldman, Visiting Associate Professor of Economics; Neil Lutsky, Professor of Psychology, Mary Savina, Professor of Geology and Coordinator for the LTC
Cosponsored by Quantitative Inquiry, Reasoning and Knowledge Initiative (QuIRK), FIPSE, and the College Writing Program
ALUMNI GUEST HOUSE MEETING ROOM, NOON–1:30 PM
LUNCH PROVIDED FOR 50

Tuesday, February 14
The Humanities in Focus
Shahzad Bashir, Associate Professor of Religion; Laurence Cooper, Associate Professor of Political Science; Susannah Ottaway, Associate Professor of History; Cathy Yandell, W. L. and Huída F. Daniell Professor of French Literature, Language and Culture
ALUMNI GUEST HOUSE MEETING ROOM, NOON–1:30 PM
LUNCH PROVIDED FOR 50

Wednesday, February 15
PEDAGOGICAL WORKSHOP
Incorporating Global Voices into Local Classrooms: Videoconferencing Made Easy
Julian Westerhout, Visiting Instructor in Political Science and Dr. Joachim Karl Rennstich, Assistant Professor of Political Science, Fordham University, New York
ALUMNI GUEST HOUSE MEETING ROOM, 4–6 PM

WINTER BOOK DISCUSSION GROUPS
HEADLEY HOUSE, 815 EAST SECOND STREET

Gender in Academia book group:
WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 11, 4:30–6:00 PM
WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 4:30–6:00 PM
Lee Shulman book group:
groups of essays
WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 4:30–6:00 PM
WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 4:30–6:00 PM

Need more information?
go.carleton.edu/ltc or contact Jennifer Cox Johnson at jcoxjohn@carleton.edu or 507-646-4192

Thursday, February 23
BUSH VISITING WRITING SCHOLAR
Storming the Castle: A Conversation About Transferring Skills and Concepts Between Disciplines
John D. Bransford, James W. Mifflin University Professor of Education and Psychology at the University of Washington, Seattle; Director, Center for Learning in Informal and Formal Environments (LIFE)
Cosponsored by Mellon Faculty Life Cycles Grant, the College Writing Program, the Department of Psychology, and St. Olaf College Center for Innovation in the Liberal Arts
ALUMNI GUEST HOUSE MEETING ROOM, NOON–1:30 PM
LUNCH PROVIDED FOR 50

Thursday, February 28
Is the Visual Ascendant? Images, Imaging, and Education in the 21st Century
Laurel Bradley, Director of Exhibitions and Curator of the College Art Collection; Cathy Mendoza, Director, Science Education Resource Center; Beverly Nagel, Associate Dean of the College; John Schott, James Woodward Strong Professor of the Liberal Arts; and other members of the Visuality Working Group
ALUMNI GUEST HOUSE MEETING ROOM, NOON–1:30 PM
LUNCH PROVIDED FOR 50

Thursday, March 2
Wikipedia and the Web-Savvy Researcher
Iris Jastram, Reference and Instruction Librarian for Literature and Languages; Heather Tompkins, Reference and Instruction Librarian for the Humanities; Kris Wedding, Assistant Professor of Physics; and other faculty members and students
GOULD LIBRARY ATHENÆUM, NOON–1:30 PM
LUNCH PROVIDED FOR 50

THE LTC lunch sessions focus on curricular initiatives that faculty and staff members across departments and divisions have initiated in the last few years in arts, humanities, quantitative literacy, writing, visual literacy, information literacy, interdisciplinary science, and diversity. Some of these initiatives are new and others are infused with new ideas, including interesting cross-connections among them. Our hope is that these sessions will provide faculty and staff members with a primer on each initiative and the chance to contribute questions and ideas to the discussions. John Bransford, co-author of How People Learn (winter 2004, book group), comes to campus in late February, and a new reading group will discuss some of Lee Shulman's essays in anticipation of his visit to Carleton in May 2006. The Gender and Academia reading group continues and welcomes new participants.