NORWEGIAN FJORDS

A voyage aboard the
Exclusively Chartered Small Ship
Five-Star LE CHAMPLAIN

May 19 to 27, 2019

Featuring Susan Jaret McKinstry,
Professor of English at Carleton College
Dear Carleton College Alumni and Friends,

Please join Susan Jaret McKinstry, Carleton’s Helen F. Lewis Professor of English, on this magnificent cruise from Scotland to Norway. Embark (and unpack just once) your five-star ship with only 92 deluxe suites and staterooms, each with private balcony, providing all the luxury and sophistication of a fine hotel.

Professor Jaret McKinstry will be part of a team of onboard experts who together will offer a series of lectures and informal discussions. This specially designed itinerary follows the stepping stones of Scottish and Nordic civilizations during the best time of year, when the weather is mild and the days are long—a rare voyage accomplished only aboard a small ship cruising into smaller ports where larger vessels cannot venture.

Cruise from dynamic Glasgow to charming Bergen, where rows of colorful, gabled houses on the historic Bryggen waterfront evoke the city’s past as a center of Hanseatic League trade. Immerse yourself in the austere splendor of the Scottish Highlands in the hamlets of Glenfinnan and Glencoe, traverse the ancient shipping lanes of the Vikings, and enjoy opportunities to visit up to five UNESCO World Heritage sites. Cruise into majestic fjords and admire the natural beauty of the Orkney and Shetland Islands with their remarkable links to the distant past. Take one of the world’s most scenic train rides along Norway’s spectacular mountain landscape aboard the Flåm Railway. A pre-cruise extension in Glasgow and Edinburgh, Scotland, and a post-cruise extension in Norway and Copenhagen, are also available.

This is an exceptional small-ship voyage—a great travel value, with all meals, excursions, and accommodations included. We will share this voyage with other organizations and this popular program has a history of selling out quickly, so I encourage you to reserve your preferred suite or stateroom now, while space and Early Booking Savings are available. I hope you will contact the Alumni Adventures office at 800-811-7244 or carleton@studytours.org today.

Sincerely,

Faculty Leader
Susan Jaret McKinstry, Carleton’s Helen F. Lewis Professor of English, lives to study literature and art in/of place. She directed Carleton’s off-campus programs in Literature and Theater in London (1998, 2005, and 2015) and Irish Studies in Ireland (2009). She led the interdisciplinary ACM London and Florence program in winter 2018, taught Visual Studies as a Fulbright Scholar in Moscow in 2014, and participated in a poetry retreat in Galway in 2016. At Carleton, Susan teaches courses on Victorian novels and poetry, Pre-Raphaelite arts, narrative theory, and creative writing (prose, poetry, and memoir). Susan’s research on words and images by 19th-century British artists, the Pre-Raphaelites, examines historic materials and their influence across cultures and eras, linking what we see to how we understand, interpret, and represent it. Her own work—both scholarly and poetic—emphasizes that intersection between experience and representation, life and art. On this tour across cultures and seas, we will experience the breathtaking northern landscapes and seascapes that have shaped the history and culture of these two distinctive places.
During the enigmatic Viking Age, which prevailed almost 300 years between the eighth and 11th centuries, the Men of the North were cast as fierce barbarians who plundered their way across the known world. They came from Norway to settle in Scotland around A.D. 800—in Jarlshof on the Shetland Islands and in the Hebrides, where over 100 villages still are known by their originally settled Norse names, solidifying the enduring historic link between Norway’s Vikings and Scotland’s clans. Some of Scotland’s best-known clans, the Clan Donald and Clan MacLeod, came from Norse ancestry, influencing the distinct dialects still spoken today on the Orkney and Shetland Islands. The nuance and rich history of these two complex and deeply intertwined cultures await your discovery across these remote, verdant and storied lands.

Fort William/Scottish Highlands
Tuesday, May 21
The legendary Scottish Highlands and their rich, rugged scenery have inspired countless folktales and storytellers with their magnetic and mysterious pull. Begin your day in bucolic Glenfinnan; view the Glenfinnan Viaduct, immortalized by the Hogwarts™ Express in the Harry Potter film series, and see the Glenfinnan Monument, commemorating the Jacobite Highlanders that Bonnie Prince Charlie rallied against King George II in 1745.

Depart for a photo-worthy stop on the Caledonian Canal at Neptune’s Staircase—the longest staircase lock in Britain. Travel along castle-dotted shores to Glencoe, what is considered Scotland’s most scenic glen, partially owned and preserved by the National Trust for Scotland.

Kirkwall, Orkney Islands
Thursday, May 23
Nearly 1000 years before the pharaohs built Giza’s pyramids and over 500 years before Stonehenge was erected, ancient inhabitants of this archipelago erected Ness of Brodgar, a mysterious compound rivaling the scale of the Acropolis, demonstrating advanced technological prowess. Walk among the nearby stone monoliths of the Ring of Brodgar, raised more than 4000 years ago to chart the seasons.

Look for black guillemots along the coast of the Orkney Islands.
This morning, the director and head archaeologist of the Ness of Brodgar site, Nick Card, will provide his keen insights about the area’s impressive ancient ruins. Mr. Card’s research and fieldwork are internationally regarded, both in the archaeology field and by the popular press.

See the ceremonial Stones of Stenness en route to the UNESCO World Heritage-designated settlement of Skara Brae. Archaeologists suggest these sites, along with the Ness of Brodgar, were inhabited by an early Orcadian culture known for decorative arts and sophisticated craftsmanship.

Thousands of years later, the Vikings established the port town of Kirkwall on Orkney’s main island, leaving behind the towering 12th-century St. Magnus Cathedral, known as the “Light of the North.”

Hear the classically haunting sounds of a Scottish bagpiper as you reboard the ship. This evening, a Scottish storyteller weaves traditional tales that have been handed down by word of mouth for generations.

This afternoon, board the Flåm Railway for one of Travel + Leisure magazine's most scenic train rides. This masterpiece of Norwegian engineering—the steepest standard-gauge railway track in Europe, ascending 2835 feet—opened to the public in 1940 and travels 13 dramatic miles through 20 tunnels to Myrdal's mountaintop station. Watch as snowcapped mountains, cascading waterfalls—including the awe-inspiring Kjøfossen—and intriguing hamlets unfold along this alpine branch of the world-renowned Bergen Line.
