Dear Carleton Alumni and Friends:

We are pleased to sponsor RIVER LIFE ALONG THE SEINE, a unique travel opportunity that captures the essence of life in northern France’s Seine River Valley. This, one of the highly successful and innovative travel programs in the Village Life series, is ideal for exploring the region’s long and fascinating history, deep-rooted culture, and exceptional artistic and architectural legacies.

For countless centuries the Seine River has served as the principal cultural and commercial artery of northern France — ideas, trade and armies have traveled the length of its fertile valley, a cradle of French civilization. Along its verdant banks stand soaring Gothic cathedrals, traditional family farmsteads, stately mansions, the craggy ruins of medieval castles, and Paris, the city that for centuries has embodied the hopes and dreams of mankind. Explore the cultural treasures and savor the tranquil beauty of the Seine River while enjoying comfortable accommodations aboard the M.V. CEZANNE, specially designed to navigate the waterways of France. Cruise through the wooded, rolling countryside of northern France, relax aboard the ship and enjoy the finest in Continental cuisine, expertly prepared by a master chef.

Among the many features of this program is the unique Village Forum, where you will hear local perspectives and insights into life along the Seine River. To further your appreciation for the traditions and history of the Seine River, this program also includes a custom-designed series of lectures, cultural enhancements and exclusive guided tours of the region’s great historical landmarks. By special arrangement, you will tour a local market, savor the regional foods of Normandy, and attend presentations about French cuisine, folklore, history and contemporary social and cultural issues.

An exceptional value that includes accommodations, meals and excursions — complemented by the convenience of unpacking only once — come together with a fascinating destination to create a truly enticing travel program. It promises to sell out quickly, so we encourage you to join fellow alumni and friends and make your reservation today!

Sincerely,

Joanne Mechling ’87

Carl Weiner is the W. H. Laird Professor of History and the Liberal Arts, Emeritus. He has studied, taught, and written about French history, directed three Carleton Paris seminars, and has lived in France for extended periods of time over a long career at Carleton. Many of his students have gone on to become eminent professors of French history in their own right. Carl is currently the Director of Project Eternay, a website that will eventually archive thousands of familial, political and professional letters of a 19th century notarial family in the western Marne.

Ruth Weiner is the Class of 1944 Professor of Theater and the Liberal Arts and Chair of the Department of Theater and Dance. Ruth has taught, lived and traveled extensively in France where her particular study has been French theater. She has led three Carleton London seminars and taught in one Paris seminar.

A WAY OF LIFE ALONG THE SEINE

River Life along the Seine is one in a unique series of River Life programs designed for those travelers who know the true character of a country is best found in the provinces, on the backroads and around local market squares. It offers a cultural and educational experience like no other. An exceptional value, River Life along the Seine focuses on the cultural, artistic and historical treasures of northern France, a region that has played a leading role in shaping the course of Western European history. Here, for one full week, you will be immersed in everyday life in a land where the past blends seamlessly with the present. In Giverny, view scenes of beauty that inspired Monet, perhaps the greatest of the Impressionist painters. Walk through the medieval streets of Rouen, where Joan of Arc went to her martyrdom. And learn firsthand about ways of life that have endured for centuries in the villages and towns of the Seine River Valley.

Exclusive lectures, presentations and tastings will provide a fascinating look at change and continuity along the Seine, a region that is paradoxically one of the most dynamic yet most traditional in France.

The exclusive Village Forum provides an opportunity to listen to personal insights that offer a candid look at the culture, history and contemporary issues facing the citizens of Normandy and the Seine Valley.

The intimate, deluxe M.V. Cezanne has been specially selected for this program, as it features Impressionist-inspired decor, superior accommodations, Continental cuisine prepared with a distinctive flair and impeccable standards of service.

Unpack once! This exceptional travel value includes accommodations, all meals and exclusively arranged excursions for an incredibly attractive price. Come experience a special way of life: River Life along the Seine.

The imposing Château-Gaillard has stood guard over Les Andelys since the days of Richard the Lionheart. Inset: Bridge Over a Pool of Water Lilies, 1899, Claude Monet.
PARIS
What began as a small, isolated Celtic farming settlement on an island in the Seine River grew over the centuries into one of the greatest cities in the world. Its Latin motto “Fluctuat nec mergitur” — “It is tossed about, but does not sink” — sums up Paris’ colorful and often turbulent history of war, conquest and revolution. Today, this truly cosmopolitan city, where past and present coexist in harmony, welcomes visitors from all over the globe.
Savor the inimitable ambiance of Montmartre, a bohemian hilltop neighborhood that for more than 200 years has been a favorite haunt of artists and musicians like Pablo Picasso, Henri de Toulouse-Lautrec and Django Reinhardt. Stroll through its narrow lanes and vibrant squares, and relax in a streetside café over a glass of wine and observe the passing parade of humanity.

AUVERS-SUR-OISE
Take a scenic drive to Auvers-sur-Oise, a traditional French village with strong ties to the world of art. Paul Gachet, a physician and amateur painter, moved here in 1872 and patronized a rising generation of young artists who came to be known as the Impressionists. Paul Cézanne visited Auvers on three occasions and completed 100 paintings here. In May 1890, Vincent van Gogh accepted Gachet’s invitation to relocate here and in the last two months of his life produced some of his finest works. Visit sites associated with the great Dutch artist, including his residence at the Maison van Gogh; the Auberge Ravoux, where he died; and his grave in the local cemetery.

GIVERNY
The tranquil village of Giverny is where the Impressionist Claude Monet lived from 1883 until his death in 1926. Go inside Monet’s attractive house, restored on the bank of the River Epte and set amid a walled garden planted according to his design, and walk through the Japanese-themed water lily garden that inspired some of his most famous paintings.

LES ANDELYS
Set on a picturesque bend of the river beneath the towering ruins of Château-Gaillard, Les Andelys typifies a traditional Norman village. Richard the Lionheart, King of England, built the imposing château in 1196-98 to deny the French passage to Rouen and the sea. Considered impregnable at the time of its construction, the fortress fell to the armies of King Philippe Auguste of France in 1204.

CAUDEBEC
Caudebec’s name first appeared in an 11th-century charter granted to the monks of the nearby Abbey of St-Wandrille.
In 1940 a fire swept through Caudebec’s
In the village of Arromanches, the D-Day Museum and the remains of Mulberry Harbor recall the drama of the conflict. From the commanding heights of the German emplacements at Pointe du Hoc, you can gain a firsthand perspective on the challenges the Allies faced in securing a foothold on the Norman coast. Today, waves gently break on the serene shores of Omaha Beach where thousands fell 64 years ago on that fateful day, and the solemn rows of crosses and Stars of David bear eloquent witness to the courage of those who made the supreme sacrifice.

ROUEN

Known as Rotomagus in Roman times, Rouen rose to prominence in the 10th century under the reign of Rollo, the first Duke of Normandy. Its location in a sheltered valley encircled by hills commands a strategic point on the Seine — it was here that the first bridge was built across the river. Visit the dominating 13th-century Cathedral of Notre Dame, one of the loveliest Gothic edifices in France. In the nearby Vieux-Marché (Old Market), where Joan of Arc was martyred, the Place St-Marc now hosts a bustling market featuring an eye-catching display of local foods and wares. Nearby, St-Maclou, a 15th-century Late Gothic gem is one of Rouen’s most beautiful churches, while the Church of Ste-Jeanne-d’Arc is a more contemporary example of French architecture: completed in 1979, it resembles the keel of an upturned ship. Rouen’s prestige as the capital of the “birthplace of Impressionism” is superbly manifest in the Musée des Beaux-Arts, which houses one of the world’s most extensive collections of Impressionist masterpieces.

D-DAY BEACHES

On the morning of June 6, 1944, a new chapter in history was written when American, British, Canadian and Free French forces landed on the beaches of Normandy. Against daunting odds, they carried the day and so determined the final victory of the Allies.

heart, but spared the lovely Church of Notre Dame, one of the finest examples of Late Gothic architecture in France. A resident monk will guide you through the Abbey of St-Wandrille. Founded by the Benedictines in 649 A.D., it was destroyed by the Vikings 200 years later, revived in the 11th and 12th centuries, ransacked during the French Revolution, and finally reestablished as a Benedictine religious house in 1931. Downstream, in the tranquil village of Villequier, tour the Victor Hugo Museum, dedicated to the life and career of the celebrated 19th-century novelist.

LE HAVRE AND HONFLEUR

Under the guidance of architect and planner Auguste Perret, Le Havre rose from the devastation of World War II to become one of the most modern cities in Western Europe and France’s busiest commercial seaport. Visit the contemporary Musée des Beaux-Arts André Malraux, which houses an extensive collection of paintings by the pre-Impressionist Eugene Boudin, and native son Raoul Dufy, a leader of the Fauvist School.

Le Havre lies just a short distance from the picturesque fishing port of Honfleur, a center of the early Impressionist movement. In Honfleur’s old maritime district, amid charming old houses, stands the magnificent church of Sainte Catherine. Along with its separate bell tower, it was built entirely out of wood in the 15th and 16th centuries and is the largest wooden church in France.

Vincent van Gogh’s painting immortalized the Gothic Church of Notre Dame in Auvers-sur-Oise.

Now serenely tranquil, the cliffs of Pointe du Hoc were the site of some of the heaviest fighting on D-Day.

THE SEINE RIVER: FRANCE'S RIVER OF DESTINY

On its journey from Paris to the English Channel, the Seine River covers a mere 277 miles. In terms of its role in history and the development of a distinctively French cultural identity, it has exerted an influence exponentially out of proportion to its length. For countless centuries, it has served as a pathway for conquest, commerce, the exchange of ideas and the migrations of people — Gauls, Romans, Franks and Norsemen have all left their indelible mark on the inhabitants of this fertile valley.

Under the Romans, Paris and Rouen developed on the site of ancient Celtic settlements. The Frankish era saw the establishment of the abbey of St-Wandrille, an outpost of civilization and learning in the Dark Ages. The ninth century brought marauding warriors from Scandinavia, the Vikings or Northmen, who penetrated the Seine River as far as Paris. Seduced by the wealth and beauty of the lands they conquered, they settled on the banks of the river, adopted French ways and gave their name to a province — Normandy. In later years, the waterway witnessed the rise of magnificent Gothic edifices in Paris, Rouen and Cauadebec and sent forth such intrepid explorers as Champlain and La Salle to the New World. Although revolution and war swept through the region in the 18th, 19th and 20th centuries, the Seine River has maintained its distinctive character and allure, and it continues to draw admirers from around the world.

CONTRACT: TERMS & CONDITIONS

NOT INCLUDED: Taxes; passport fees; visas and fees for obtaining visas; personal expenses such as laundry and telephone calls; accent charges, tip cancellation, and baggage insurance; gratuities to ship personnel; optional sightseeing excursions; excess baggage charges on aircraft; local departure air taxes; airfare and associated local taxes, airport facility taxes and federal inspection fees not listed in the “Included Features” section; transfers and baggage handling to/from airport/ship on day(s) of arrival and/or departure 1) if you have not purchased your air arrangements through Thomas P. Gohagan & Company, or 2) if you are arriving earlier or later than and/or departing earlier or later than the scheduled group transfer(s); meals and alcoholic beverages not listed in the “Included Features” section; and all other services not specifically mentioned in the “Included Features” section.

AIRFARE: Airfare is subject to change and availability and is nonrefundable. Your airline ticket constitutes a contract between you and the airline (not Thomas P. Gohagan & Company), even if purchased through Thomas P. Gohagan & Company.

LUGGAGE: Luggage allowance policies are set by the airlines and may change without prior notice. Please contact your airline(s) for the most current luggage allowance policy.

HEALTH: Any physical or mental condition that may require special medical attention (for example, the need for a wheelchair) must be reported in writing when you make your reservation.

DISCOUNTED RESERVATIONS: Discounts apply only to those reservations received in the offices of Thomas P. Gohagan & Company in writing, accompanied by the required deposit, by March 28, 2008. In the event a “discounted” reservation must be cancelled, no “replacement” reservation can be substituted at the discounted rate. A “replacement” reservation is, in effect, a new reservation and can be substituted only at the full-fare tariff. Change and/or cancellation fees as applies as outlined in this “Contract: Terms and Conditions” for the “replacement” reservation and the cancelled reservation.

CANCELLATION AND REFUNDS: Cancellations for all or any part of the trip will not be effective until received in writing in the offices of Thomas P. Gohagan & Company. Should you have to cancel, the following terms will apply: reservation cancellations are subject to a $200 per person administrative fee from the time of booking through 121 days prior to departure; from 95 through 120 days prior to departure, $600 per person; from 61 through 94 days prior to departure, 40% of the published full regular tariff; from 45 through 60 days prior to departure, 55% of the published full regular tariff; from 22 through 44 days prior to departure, 70% of the published full regular tariff; cancellations 21 days or less prior to departure, a no-show, or early return from the trip will result in forfeiture of 100% of the published full regular tariff. In addition, any applicable airline cancellation fees and administrative fees will be assessed.

Because these cancellation policies are strictly enforced, we strongly recommend for your protection that you purchase trip cancellation insurance.

RESPONSIBILITY: Thomas P. Gohagan & Company, the sponsoring institution or association, and its and their employees, shareholders, subsidiaries, affiliates, officers, directors or trustees, successors, agents, and assigns (collectively “Gohagan”), do not own or operate any entity which is to or does provide goods or services for your trip including, for example, lodging facilities, airline, vessel, or other transportation companies, guides or guide services, local ground operators, providers or organizers of optional excursions, food service providers, etc. All such persons and entities are independent contractors. As a result, Gohagan is not liable for any negligent or willful act or failure to act of any such person or entity of any third party.

In addition and without limitation, Gohagan is not responsible for any injury, loss, death, inconvenience, delay, or damage to person or property in connection with the provision of any goods or services whether resulting from acts of God or force majeure, acts of war or civil unrest, insurrection or revolt, animals, strikes or other labor activities, criminal or terrorist activities of any kind, sickness, illness, the lack of availability of or access to appropriate medical attention, overbooking or downgrading of accommodations, mechanical or other failure of airplanes or other means of transportation, or for any failure of any transportation mechanism to arrive or depart on time.

If due to weather, flight schedules or other uncontrollable factors, you are required to spend an additional night(s), you will be responsible for your own hotel, transfers and meal costs. Baggage is entirely at owner’s risk. The right is reserved to decline or accept or retain any person as a participant on these trips at any time. Specific cabin assignments are within the sole discretion of the cruise line.

Gohagan reserves the right to change the itinerary or trip features at any time and for any reason, with or without notice, and Gohagan shall not be liable for any loss of any kind as a result of any such changes. Gohagan may cancel a trip for any reason whatsoever; if so, its sole responsibility is to refund monies paid by the participant to it. Gohagan is not required to cancel any trip for any reason including without limitation, United States Department of State, World Health Organization or other Warnings or Advisories of any kind. All fares, as well as ship schedules, port calls, hours of arrival and departure, special programs and guest lecture series (if applicable), are subject to change or cancellation without prior notice. Gohagan shall not be required to refund any portion of the fare or make any other compensation under these circumstances. Gohagan is not responsible for penalties assessed by air carriers resulting from operational and/or itinerary changes, even if Gohagan makes the flight arrangements or cancels the trip. Gohagan reserves the right to substitute vessels or hotels of a similar category for those listed in this brochure. Gohagan reserves the right to increase the tour price in the event of cost increases due to changes in airfares, currency fluctuations or fuel surcharges and all such increases are to be paid to Gohagan upon notice to the tour participant of such increases.

ARBITRATION AGREEMENT: Any controversy or claim arising out of or relating in any way to these Terms and Conditions, to the Responsibility Clause, to the brochure, or any other information relating in any way to the trip, or to the trip itself, shall be settled solely and exclusively by binding arbitration in Chicago, Illinois, in accordance with the rules of the American Arbitration Association then existent.
