‘C’ Club Hall of Fame

‘C’ Club will induct three outstanding former athletes into the Hall of Fame on Saturday, June 21: Lisa Kelly ’88, Scott Hanks ’93, and Scott Krohn ’93.

The Career Center

The Carleton Career Center has undergone a major review over recent years, and is now in its first year under new leadership, with a reorganized operating model. The Center has many new aims and objectives while the underlying goal remains the same: provide for our students (and recent graduates) the information, advice, and opportunities to both explore their professional interests and to secure concrete opportunities as they transition from Carleton. A major part of this effort will be garnering the involvement of alumni to create a vibrant, far-reaching, diverse, and deep network of support. We hope to draw on the same powerful volunteer capacity that has driven the success of the other alumni efforts at Carleton. Plan to stop by the prominent red-topped tent in front of Sayles to find out how you can volunteer to Be part of the Solution, or visit the Career Center, which is located on the lower level of Sayles-Hill.

The Cave
The Cave's liquor license permits only its 3.2 beer to be sold or consumed in the Cave. Violations could result in the Cave losing its license. We appreciate your cooperation. We have observed increased scrutiny by local law enforcement in recent years.

The Cave will be open 8 p.m.–12 a.m., Friday and Saturday. Beer will be available for purchase.

Library Exhibits

Project L-Day: The Great Library Move of '56
In 1956, the students and faculty members of Carleton moved the library collection from Scoville Memorial Library to the newly constructed Carleton Library. This exhibit documents that monumental undertaking.

The Universe in Miniature: Books and Boxes by Jody Williams '78
This selection of handmade books and boxes celebrates the unique art of Carleton alumna Jody Williams '78. For Williams, bigger is not better and, in fact, little things can be of great significance. In April Williams received the first Minnesota Book Artist Award.

Observing, Thinking, Breathing: The Nancy Gast Riss '77 Carleton Cabinet of Wonders
The liberal arts are explored through natural specimens, miniature images, and unique artists’ books. Jody
Williams '78, Minneapolis book artist and printmaker, created the cabinet as a memorial to Nancy Gast Riss '77.

Milton 400th Anniversary

Recycling & Sustainability
Please participate in the Carleton recycling program during your time here by putting glass, paper, newspaper, plastic, and aluminum into the appropriate blue barrels you’ll see around campus. Acceptable recyclables: aluminum cans, glass bottles (remove caps), paper, newspapers, and plastic bottles (no cups please).

Green Reunion/Sustainability Information
The College is working to reduce waste generated during reunion weekend. To that end, folders with copies of information related to the weekend have been eliminated. Please look for posters and other information in Sayles-Hill and Watson and in your assigned class lounge for details about weekend activities beyond what is listed in the reunion schedule. We estimate eliminating folders will save more than 14,000 pieces of paper this year.

In addition, all meals held in tents will utilize compostable utensils, plates, napkins, cups, and packaging. Please pay careful attention when disposing of these items—clearly marked bins will be provided.

To help eliminate plastic waste, each attendee receives a water bottle at registration; water coolers are available at Sayles-Hill and in each residence hall lounge.
