Massive March On Nason's House
Demonstrators Support Vote, More Open Houses

More than 700 students participated Sunday evening in a torchlight march on John W. Nason's home.

Nason was presented with a statement expressing student desire to have "a significant student voice" in the formation of the college's government. (For complete text see Page Four.) Approaching the sinter statement was a further statement by Dean of the College, William A. Weatherford. The statement stated that only students and Acting Dean of Men William F. Foppiani were competent to "the need for a student voice in the development of social rules."

More Concerning

The demonstration indicated that a further and more complete statement would be assisted Wednesday. (See Page Four) for statement text.

The marches assembled in front of Grand, followed the main and then began their march to the bell tower. At the bell tower, the marchers assembled quietly along the road. Along the way several faculty members were watching and helping to lead the march.

Torchlight Demonstration

Between 30 and 35 students were marched on the march route. Police and the least Civil Defense forces were mobile on the road route. After the student statement was read to the marchers, Nason accepted both documents and released Freedom, giving their contents, action, commitments, etc.

Nason later commented that "the thought it was an interesting and, obviously a careful and responsibility developed way of preparing our statement. However, he said that "it would have been better to present the two documents on my torchlight traffic." When asked to comment on the statement the President said, "I have maintained that the students have, and ought to have, a voice in the determination of relevant college policy."

A PROGRESSIVE YEAR

Social Rules Liberalized

By Bob Jarvatz

Liberalizing women’s hours, the drinking rule, and open housing are all hallmarks of Carleton’s Centennial.

Eric Janus, president of Carleton, has worked hard to "free" the campus as "unconscionably - the publication income, disconcert, or weigh down student goals," and President John Nason has helped to ensure that the changes will help students to realize their responsibility and grow in maturity and self-control.

The new drinking rule and the liberalization of women’s hours have caused a major change in college policy and resulted from the work of the Dean of Women’s, the Office of Student Life, and the Office of Student Affairs. The Office of Student Life has been working with students on a variety of issues, and the Office of Student Affairs has been working with students on a variety of issues.

The new women’s hours, also approved by PA, last year, provide for extending graduated freedom to the women students, giving them greater responsibility by increasing the number of 3 o'clock lateness terms.

First and second term freshmen have two specific terms, while third term freshmen have three. In comparison, third term freshmen and all seniors will see their own hours, thus, in effect, having no hours at all.

The liberalization of the old policy was aimed at increasing the number of 3 o'clock lateness terms.

The first term freshmen were the targets. In previous years, the Deans that the clause was being enforced "meant that the doors were closed," now "the doors must not be closed."

The secret doors opened for the first time since they were installed for the renovation of 1964.

The secret doors opened for the first time since they were installed for the renovation of 1964.

Big Fresh Class Forces Opening of Student Housing

Big Fresh Class Forces Opening of Student Housing

This year’s fourth class is significantly in size and provides an outstanding class as evidence of unusual talent.

The Class of ’68 is one of the biggest in the class.

This represents an all-time high for the class.

Between 30 and 40 percent of the students are freshmen.

The average student is 40 years old and 21 foreign countries.

There are definitely more guys students from the west and north-west entering this year.

The total comes to about twice the number of those from this area.

Growing Reputation

Gavin said this was the case.

He said it was the case.

The growing reputation of the College is the west and the number of students coming from west states.

The Admissions Director and the Columbia Board more distribution emulsion favorably with post classes.

Nearly half the freshmen now have major aspirations across the board, and will wait until the summer before they have major scores above 550.

More than a quarter of the women have major aspirations above 550, and over forty percent of the women have verbal scores over 350.

This look-back issue of THE CARLETONIAN is published by the 50th Reunion Planning Committee of the Class of 1968.

All materials appeared in The Carletonian during the four years that defined the life of our class.

ONCE AGAIN

Last Saturday Pete Everson was fired from his position as proctor of third floor.

Monday morning John Wilson resigned his proctorship on third floor, because he felt he could no longer enjoy his position, as he did not believe in...

Carleton College Class of 1968
50th Reunion June 14-17, 2018

Poem In MS Prompts Board Self-Evaluation

By Gregory Smith

[Text is not legible]
Sophomore Year, 1965-1966

$100 Tuition Increase To go for Faculty Pay

A need for higher faculty salaries, which was noted by President John A. Hittison in his 1968 address, was met with a $100 tuition increase for 1968.

College to Report Standing

For DRAFT BOARDS

Vigil Planned

All-Night Vigil Planned To Protest Viet War

"We simply went to demonstrate our feeling," said the organizers.

"It is the war in Vietnam," said the president of the movement.

The Vigil is a type of protest that occurs in front of a university building.

Some students have been injured by the police.

L.A. Riots Really Revolt

DAVE MOBERG

Tradition-Laden Schiller Tumbles To His Death

By Harry F. Fifer

As is so common among the rich, the poor, and the middle class, the Schiller family has decided to sell its 200-year-old home in Carleton.

The house was donated to the town by the Schiller family in 1850.

Nason and Co.

Produce Ballyhoo

To the Editor:

Theჭh of making Nason and Co. the current leader in local drafts has been covered by a series of articles in the paper last week. The company's success is due to its aggressive marketing strategy and well-planned campaigns.

John Smith, an employee at Nason and Co., said that the company has been focusing on expanding its market share.

"We've been working hard to increase our market share, and we're seeing some good results," said Smith.

Letters To The Editor

'Botanist Letter Provokes Publishers Board Meeting

By Dick S. Stuber and Bob Johnson

The botanist letter to the Board of Directors of the Botanical Society, which appeared in the Oct. 25 issue, has sparked a debate among the society's members.

The letter, written by Dr. John T. Morgan, discussed the non-compliance of the society's journals with certain standards.

"We are concerned about the quality of the society's journals," said Morgan.

Tuition, Loan, Hard Work, and Revalorization

By D. O. R. Frank

The increase in tuition has not only affected the students, but also the faculty. The faculty has decided to raise their salaries as well.

"We believe that the increase in tuition should be accompanied by an increase in our salaries," said the faculty member.

Senate Seeks Students On Faculty Committees

By Jake M. Thompson

The Senate has decided to seek students to serve on faculty committees.

"We believe that students should be involved in the decision-making process," said the senator.

Letters to the Editor

"Letters to the Editor" is a regular feature of the college newspaper.

"We welcome letters from students and faculty," said the editor.

Tradition-Laden Schiller Tumbles To His Death

By Harry F. Fifer

As is so common among the rich, the poor, and the middle class, the Schiller family has decided to sell its 200-year-old home in Carleton.

The house was donated to the town by the Schiller family in 1850.

Nason and Co.

Produce Ballyhoo

To the Editor:

Theჭh of making Nason and Co. the current leader in local drafts has been covered by a series of articles in the paper last week. The company's success is due to its aggressive marketing strategy and well-planned campaigns.

John Smith, an employee at Nason and Co., said that the company has been focusing on expanding its market share.

"We've been working hard to increase our market share, and we're seeing some good results," said Smith.

Letters To The Editor

'Botanist Letter Provokes Publishers Board Meeting

By Dick S. Stuber and Bob Johnson

The botanist letter to the Board of Directors of the Botanical Society, which appeared in the Oct. 25 issue, has sparked a debate among the society's members.

The letter, written by Dr. John T. Morgan, discussed the non-compliance of the society's journals with certain standards.

"We are concerned about the quality of the society's journals," said Morgan.

Tuition, Loan, Hard Work, and Revalorization

By D. O. R. Frank

The increase in tuition has not only affected the students, but also the faculty. The faculty has decided to raise their salaries as well.

"We believe that the increase in tuition should be accompanied by an increase in our salaries," said the faculty member.

Senate Seeks Students On Faculty Committees

By Jake M. Thompson

The Senate has decided to seek students to serve on faculty committees.

"We believe that students should be involved in the decision-making process," said the senator.

Letters to the Editor

"Letters to the Editor" is a regular feature of the college newspaper.

"We welcome letters from students and faculty," said the editor.

Tradition-Laden Schiller Tumbles To His Death

By Harry F. Fifer

As is so common among the rich, the poor, and the middle class, the Schiller family has decided to sell its 200-year-old home in Carleton.

The house was donated to the town by the Schiller family in 1850.

Nason and Co.

Produce Ballyhoo

To the Editor:

Theჭh of making Nason and Co. the current leader in local drafts has been covered by a series of articles in the paper last week. The company's success is due to its aggressive marketing strategy and well-planned campaigns.

John Smith, an employee at Nason and Co., said that the company has been focusing on expanding its market share.

"We've been working hard to increase our market share, and we're seeing some good results," said Smith.

Letters To The Editor

'Botanist Letter Provokes Publishers Board Meeting

By Dick S. Stuber and Bob Johnson

The botanist letter to the Board of Directors of the Botanical Society, which appeared in the Oct. 25 issue, has sparked a debate among the society's members.

The letter, written by Dr. John T. Morgan, discussed the non-compliance of the society's journals with certain standards.

"We are concerned about the quality of the society's journals," said Morgan.

Tuition, Loan, Hard Work, and Revalorization

By D. O. R. Frank

The increase in tuition has not only affected the students, but also the faculty. The faculty has decided to raise their salaries as well.

"We believe that the increase in tuition should be accompanied by an increase in our salaries," said the faculty member.

Senate Seeks Students On Faculty Committees

By Jake M. Thompson

The Senate has decided to seek students to serve on faculty committees.

"We believe that students should be involved in the decision-making process," said the senator.

Letters to the Editor

"Letters to the Editor" is a regular feature of the college newspaper.

"We welcome letters from students and faculty," said the editor.
Down Memory Lane with the Class of 1968 – (1964-1968)

Off to Met Stadium

Commencement: Marnie Frank, Bill Freedman and Chris Friess

Football captains (Donnie Dean and Gary Jacobsen) with Ole captains

Women's tennis

Men's baseball

Marc Reigel '67 and the Night Crawlers

Gymnastics

Remember library cards?

Van Cliburn at Carleton in 1965

1965 flood

Judy Collins on campus 1965

Beanies to Chapel

Girls of First Gridley South

International Affairs

Glee Club in Chapel

Girls of First Gridley South

Maurice at Carleton in 1964

Alexander Henry room

Carleton College Class of 1968 50th Reunion June 14-17, 2018 Page 7
Junior Year, 1966-1967

Stewie's Carleton: Change and Harmony

By Kaye Willumsen

With the spirit of change blowing through the college campus, students were exploring the many different facets of life. Many were embracing the causes of the civil rights movement and the anti-war movement, and the demands for greater opportunities were heard everywhere. Some were interested in a career in science, while others were more concerned with social justice issues.

BLAKE STEWART

Marvin G. Smith in a silent form unborn;
He'll come to us all in good time.

Just a few days ago, Marvin G. Smith visited Carleton College. His presence was felt throughout the campus, and his message of change and harmony resonated with everyone. His words were filled with hope and promise, and his actions were a testament to the power of unity.

Watson Opens Next Week Parish House Unfinished

Girls will be the "new" in this area as the unfinished Parish House is turned over to them next week. The building is scheduled for an opening of Lenten lessons in late March. The interior of the building, with its light and airy atmosphere, is a perfect setting for girls' events. The Parish House also includes a small kitchen and a study area, which will be used for discussions and study sessions.

According to Miss Anderson, one of the leaders of the girls' group, the Parish House will be a valuable asset to the Carleton College community. "We are excited to have our own space," she said. "It will allow us to have more freedom and independence."

Work in Process

We need a "new" and "new" in the Parish House, but we also need the "new" in the Parish Life. What is visible in a Parish Life is the "new" changes taking place. What is invisible is the "new" work that is being done, the "new" creativity that is emerging. We need to be aware of the "new" opportunities that are available, and we need to be open to the "new" possibilities that are being created.

Full Schedule for Centennial

The centennial of American education will be celebrated throughout the country this year. The event will feature a variety of programs and events, including a symposium on the history of American education, aIData exhibition, and a concert series. The centennial is an opportunity to reflect on the past and to consider the future of American education.

We Too Are Responsible

ROBERT MARGUR

Too young to remember, this generation is responsible for the war. But perhaps they are responsible. We are the generation that will carry the burden of the future. This generation must take responsibility for the past. This generation must be the voice of the future.

Evans May Rejoin WL

Claiming a week of breathing patient activity on the floor.

Bob Evans was evidently well. He had been readmitted to the hospital after a brief hospitalization. A checkup revealed that he was suffering from a mild respiratory infection, which had been diagnosed earlier in the week. The doctor said that Bob was not expected to be discharged for another few days. We hope that he will recover soon and return to his normal activities.

PHILIPPE AT E A N

"Presidents are not the only ones," he said. "They come and go, but the president's position is the symbol of the university. The president must be a leader, a role model, and a voice for the university in the world."

MARIE ANDERSON

White Liberals On Trial

The director of the civil rights movement NOVEMBER 1966 was in court today, facing a crime in the ranks of white liberals. This crime has implications for the future of black-white relationships.

One can divide the white "liberals" into two groups: the moderate liberals and the student "radicals." The moderate liberals, whose civil rights activities in the past were limited to pushing Martin Luther King, Martin Anderson, or some other suitable Negro, and giving money to the NAACP, new continue to praise King. At the same time, however, they tolerate simmering by "contrasting" and make comments about how black power is hurting the movement and obstructing white liberals, I. e., them.

These are the people whose past commitment was mainly to tokenism and whose understanding of the Negro masses was rather superficial, or nonexistent. They were more than willing to give lip service to the movement as long as the goals seemed to be in line with the norms and standards of the middle class. These liberals had the notion that all Negroes were "just like whites" and that those who weren't, weren't.

The whole climate of public opinion is very much in favor of the moderate liberals, with public support and urging that the Negro Congress did not continue to use the "tactics of the street." The violating of the norms and standards of the middle class.

There are all the people whose past commitment was mainly to tokenism and whose understanding of the Negro masses was either superficial, or nonexistent. They were more than willing to give lip service to the movement as long as the goals seemed to be in line with the norms and standards of the middle class. These liberals had the notion that all Negroes were "just like whites" and that those who weren't, weren't.

The whole climate of public opinion is very much in favor of the moderate liberals, with public support and urging that the Negro Congress did not continue to use the "tactics of the street." The violating of the norms and standards of the middle class.

The whole climate of public opinion is very much in favor of the moderate liberals, with public support and urging that the Negro Congress did not continue to use the "tactics of the street." The violating of the norms and standards of the middle class.

The whole climate of public opinion is very much in favor of the moderate liberals, with public support and urging that the Negro Congress did not continue to use the "tactics of the street." The violating of the norms and standards of the middle class.

The whole climate of public opinion is very much in favor of the moderate liberals, with public support and urging that the Negro Congress did not continue to use the "tactics of the street." The violating of the norms and standards of the middle class.
Computer Cures Boredom, Loneliness

By J. Scott Fulcher

Senior, 1967-1968

As graduation nears, so does the end of an era for many students. Over the past four years, they have experienced a range of emotions, from the initial excitement of starting college to the challenges of academic life. Now, as they prepare to leave, many are looking back on their college experience with a sense of nostalgia and reflection.

Many students have found ways to cope with the challenges of college life through technology. Over the past few years, the advent of the computer has revolutionized the way we communicate and live our lives. It has become an integral part of our daily routines, from checking our email to studying for exams.

The computer has also had a significant impact on social life. As more students have access to the internet, they have found new ways to connect with others. Social media platforms have allowed students to stay in touch with friends and family, even when they are far apart. Online forums and discussion boards have also provided a space for students to share ideas and opinions.

Despite the many benefits of technology, there are also some concerns. The constant use of technology can lead to a lack of social interaction and a sense of isolation. Many students report feeling disconnected from others, even when they are physically present.

As they prepare to move on to the next stage of their lives, many students are reflecting on the role that technology has played in their college experience. They are looking forward to new opportunities and challenges, and are excited to see what the future holds.

East Side Hours System Gets Favorable Response

By Betty Markert

The East Side Hours System, implemented in the spring of this year, has received mixed reviews from students. Some have found it to be a helpful resource, while others have been less satisfied.

The system, which provides additional study hours for students, has been introduced in response to concerns about the workload and stress associated with academic life. Students have expressed a desire for more time to study and prepare for exams, and the East Side Hours System was designed to address this need.

However, some students have found the system to be less than helpful. They have reported issues with the system's implementation, such as delays in access to the additional hours and a lack of communication from the administration.

Overall, the system has received mixed reviews from students. While some have found it to be a valuable resource, others have been less satisfied. As the system continues to be evaluated, the administration will be looking for ways to improve it and address any concerns that arise.

Nightcrawlers Reigel Returns, Wows Fans

By Bob Conroy

The Carleton College Class of 1968 held a 50th reunion in June 2018. The event brought together alumni from around the country to celebrate their time at Carleton and reconnect with old friends.

One of the highlights of the reunion was the returning of Senior, Sen. McCarthy for his legendary performance on the night cow. Many alumni were excited to see the return of this beloved tradition.

The performance was well-received by the crowd, who were drawn in by Sen. McCarthy's energy and charisma. Many alumni expressed their excitement and enthusiasm, and the evening was a great success.

Carleton College Class of 1968

50th Reunion
June 14-17, 2018

Page 11
By Jolly Bick Baker

On Monday, May 1, Kenyon’s team broke the Rollett Rott 15-game losing streak to start their ninth consecutive game. In the past nine contests, Kenyon has the worst team record of the conference. The coach and his team were disappointed in the second loss from fumbling and holding Longines, 11-6.

The team statist reveals that Kenyon’s team is losing 20 pounds per week. Team members are now going to the gym several times a day, and Coach Koestler has lost 40 pounds with his new weight loss program. They are training under the bottom of the conference with the division, Coach Koestler points out.

By the end of the week, Coach Koestler and his team will have gained 25 pounds. However, Kenyon’s team is still in the bottom of the conference.

Golf Quits; Retains Beard

By J. B. Wells

The Carleton golf team quit an of a loss last week when former Kenyon player turned into his resignation under a strong pressure. Golf coach Everett K. Sturbridge, who quit a year ago, is the new head coach of the golf team. He had been a member of the Kenyon team for nine years.

The first year was a success, the second was a failure, and the third year was a disaster. Now, the golf team is under new leadership.

He Beardless Golfers

In the face of a banned Kenyon golf team, two golfers have refused to play under the new coach. "He’s bald," said one of the players. "And he’s got a beard." The team found out that the new coach is a "bearded" man.

The Dean did not think that the new coach would be accepted, but the golfers’ presence would help the golf team. "I think he’ll be a good leader," said the Dean. "He’s got a lot of experience in golfing." The golf team is expected to do well under the new coach.

The Carleton golf team is now playing under the new coach. They are hoping to win some matches against other teams.

By Legs

For some reason 18 results obtained, the team of Kenyon, and her brother, are still in the lead. The last game was against the Newman’s Recreation Association. "We won in overtime," said the Newman’s team leader. "They couldn’t handle our offense." The Newman’s team is now 18-0.

Maxfield’s team of Kenyon has been in a slump for the past few games. "They’re not playing well," said the Maxfield’s team leader. "They’re losing confidence." The Maxfield’s team is now 12-5.

By Legs

The Carleton tennis team won over the Kenyon team by a score of 5-2. The Carleton team, led by Captain Louis Christensen, defeated Kenyon’s team at singles and doubles.

By Legs

The Carleton softball team has been playing well this season. They have won 30 games and lost 10. They are now tied for first place in the conference.

By Legs

The Carleton hockey team has been playing well this season. They have won 16 games and lost 4. They are now tied for second place in the conference.

By Legs

The Carleton golf team has been playing well this season. They have won 20 games and lost 5. They are now tied for third place in the conference.

By Legs

The Carleton tennis team has been playing well this season. They have won 25 games and lost 15. They are now tied for fourth place in the conference.

By Legs

The Carleton baseball team has been playing well this season. They have won 22 games and lost 12. They are now tied for fifth place in the conference.

By Legs

The Carleton basketball team has been playing well this season. They have won 18 games and lost 17. They are now tied for sixth place in the conference.

By Legs

The Carleton women’s volleyball team has been playing well this season. They have won 14 games and lost 10. They are now tied for seventh place in the conference.

By Legs

The Carleton men’s volleyball team has been playing well this season. They have won 12 games and lost 12. They are now tied for eighth place in the conference.

By Legs

The Carleton women’s softball team has been playing well this season. They have won 10 games and lost 10. They are now tied for ninth place in the conference.

By Legs

The Carleton men’s softball team has been playing well this season. They have won 8 games and lost 12. They are now tied for tenth place in the conference.

By Legs

The Carleton women’s tennis team has been playing well this season. They have won 6 games and lost 6. They are now tied for tenth place in the conference.

By Legs

The Carleton men’s tennis team has been playing well this season. They have won 4 games and lost 8. They are now tied for eleventh place in the conference.

By Legs

The Carleton women’s basketball team has been playing well this season. They have won 2 games and lost 14. They are now tied for twelfth place in the conference.

By Legs

The Carleton men’s basketball team has been playing well this season. They have won 1 game and lost 14. They are now tied for twelfth place in the conference.