Back in 1993, September’s arrival meant we were starting another year at Carleton, looking forward to seeing friends, and at least beginning to think about comps. With graduation on the horizon, we also began to think about what might happen afterwards. As it turned out, whatever paths life took for each of us, plenty has happened in the 25 years since we left Northfield in June 1994.

This September, we’re inviting and encouraging you to return to Carleton for our 25th Reunion June 20-23, 2019. When we think back to what we remember most from our time as students, the memories almost always revolve around experiences we shared: off-campus programs, roommates & floors, teammates, artistic performances, courses & majors, study groups, clubs, dining halls, etc. The list goes on, but the pattern remains: Carleton wasn’t (and isn’t) just a physical place. Carleton is the community we created together then and continue to create today.

And that is why we want to see you at our 25th Reunion in June 2019. Everyone has charted an interesting path over the past 25 years, and we hope you’ll come back to campus to share those stories. Passions, adventures, family, pets, work, hobbies, school, projects, lessons learned from failures and successes: if you’re game for sharing it, we want to hear 100% of it.

In order to start our conversations, we’ve provided a few tools to whet your appetite.

1. Our Class of 1994 25th Reunion page, where you can let everyone know you plan to be there next June and where you will be able to officially register starting in March.
2. Get a jump on sharing your story by filling out a short BioBook template on the Reunion page.
3. We’ll be posting information on the Class of 1994 Facebook page and encourage you to join if you are a Facebook user.
4. Regardless of whether you’re into the book of faces, we’ll be sending out monthly newsletters with key timelines and updates about events being planned for Reunion.

One of those updates has a deadline that is right around the corner: Alumni Association Award nominations have to be submitted by November 15th. If you have someone in mind for an award, please email Eric Egge with the name of your nominee and why you are making the nomination. While the deadline for nominations is not until November 15, it takes some time to collect all of the materials needed for a nomination packet.

It’s also important to remember that new students arrive on campus this September to begin their own Carleton stories. Carleton continues to have a diverse and vibrant community in part because of generous donations from alumni. To that end, our Class of 1994 Reunion Gift Committee will be reaching out to you in the coming months.

So here is our opening pitch for our 25th Reunion: come back to Northfield June 20-23, 2019. Reconnect with old friends. Make new ones. Whatever you’ve been up to since 1994, we look forward to connecting with 100% of you and all of your stories.
