Red-hot Knights, Cobbers meet in MIAC showdown

Two of the hottest teams in all of Division III and the top two teams in the MIAC meet when Carleton hosts Concordia on Saturday, Feb. 5, at West Gym. The Knights, Carleton’s 15-game winning streak is the third longest in all of Division III while the Cobbers’ current nine-game streak is the ninth-best in the country. The Knights currently lead Concordia at St. Benedict by three games in the MIAC race, as the Blazers and Cobbers are deadlocked in second place.

A Carleton victory clinches a top-two seed in the upcoming MIAC Playoff and would leave its “magic number” for a share of the MIAC regular-season title at one, meaning either a Carleton win or St. Benedict loss over the next two weeks would give the Knights their third straight MIAC title.

Broadcast information

Saturday’s game can be heard locally on KQCL 95.9 FM, with award-winning sports director Gordy Kofeld on the call, as well as worldwide on Carleton’s website (www.carleton.edu/athletics/broadcasts/) using QuickTime Player.

Knights’ streak among longest in nation

Carleton’s current 15-game winning streak is the third longest in all of NCAA Division III. Second-ranked Scranton has won 18 consecutive games while No. 15 Buena Vista (lowa) has won 16 straight games. Third-ranked Southern Maine has won 15 consecutive games as well. Concordia-Moorhead’s nine-game winning streak is the 12th-longest in the nation. It marks the second-best winning streak in school history, as the 2002-03 squad won its first 23 games to begin the season.

Home, sweet home

Carleton’s win over Augsburg on Monday moved its home winning streak to 24 consecutive games, dating back to the 2002-03 season. It is the longest in school history and currently the third-longest in Division III.

The Knights are 8-4 over the last five seasons at West Gym, 48-3 against MIAC foes. It is the longest current home winning streak in the conference.

Last time out – Carleton 62, at Gustavus 49

Megan Vig tallied 15 points and Beth Freeman added 13 points, 10 rebounds and three blocked shots as Carleton defeated host Gustavus, 62-49.

Kari Christianson was also in double figures with 11 points. Gustavus was led by Bri Monahan’s 14 points and 11 rebounds. Kristin Kachelmyer also notched a double-double with 10 points and 13 boards.

The Knights, who own the best defense in the conference, limited the G-stensions to 33 percent shooting and held a conference foe to less than 50 points for the sixth time in 15 games.

Carleton trailed early, 15-8, but an Andrea Dahle lay-up ignited a 39-8 run over the final 8:17 of the first half.

half, as Kate Krueger drained a three-pointer at the halftime buzzer, giving the Knights a 27-17 advantage at the break.

Christianson’s lay-up and Vig’s three-pointer opened the second-half scoring as the Knights eventually pushed the lead to 17 on a Beth Freeman bucket. The Gusties rallied with a 14-3 run to pull within six at 39-33. Carleton stemmed the tide as Taylor Ross and Andrea Korb scored on lay-ups and Beth Freeman added a three-point play, blocking the lead back to 46-33 with 5:04 left. The Knights salted the game away by making eight straight free throws in the final 2:24.

Knights 17th in latest D3hoops.com poll

Carleton used its win over then No. 14 St. Benedict to move up two spots to 17th in the latest D3hoops.com top 25 poll. The Knights have been ranked for five consecutive weeks and 41 of the last 45 weeks, dating back to the 2002-03 season. Carleton took control of the MICA race with the Jan. 29, 84-57 triumph over the Blazers, marking the Knights’ second win over a nationally-ranked opponent this season. The Knights are one of two MICA teams to be ranked, as St. Benedict dropped 10 spots to 29th after losing twice last week. Somehow the Knights remain unranked in the ESPN/USA Today/WBCLA poll while the Blaziers are ranked 22nd despite losing twice to Carleton by a combined margin of 42 points.

Vig MICA co-player of the week

Megan Vig shared this week’s MICA player of the week honors after averaging 23.5 points and shooting a stunning 69.2 percent from the floor in helping Carleton post two wins during the week and moving the Knights three games ahead of the pack in the MICA race. In Saturday’s blowout of No. 14 St. Benedict, she matched her season high with 27 points while grabbing 10 rebounds in Carleton’s 84-57 win over the Blazers. In Wednesday’s 68-62 win over Hamline, Vig scored 20 points, grabbed five rebounds and dished out four assists. For the week she shot 69.2 percent from the floor, including 4-of-9 from three-point range, and averaged 7 rebounds and three assists.

Metcalfe-Filzen reaches 150 wins at Carleton

With Wednesday’s win over Gustavus, Carleton head coach Tammy Metcalfe-Filzen reached the 150-win mark in her eighth season at Carleton. With Monday’s win against Augsburg she matched her 117th career win. Since taking over the Carleton program in 1997-98, she’s amassed the second-most wins among any MICA coach, going 150-57. Over the last five seasons she leads all MICA coaches with a 111-21 (.834) record.

Defense shuts down MICA foes

For the sixth time in 15 outings, Carleton held a conference opponent to less than 50 points, holding Gustavus to 49 points. Only Concordia-Moorhead and Hamline managed to break the 60-point barrier against the Knights in MICA play, and the Cobbers needed four three-pointers in the final 2:05 to break the 60-point mark. The Knights hold a league-best 51.6 scoring defense average and are holding teams to 35.4 percent shooting and 28.9 percent three-point shooting, ranking first and third, respectively, in the MICA. The second-best defensive average is 60.8 points allowed per game by Gustavus. The MICA scoring defense average record is 49.4 points per game, set by St. Thomas in a 20-game conference season in 1996-97.

About Concordia

The Cobbers come into Saturday’s contest with somewhat fresh legs, as they last played on Sunday, Jan. 30 after playing four games in seven days. This match-up will be a key for the Cobbers to grab one of the top two seeds in the MICA Playoffs and marks their final game against one of the top five teams in the league standings.

Concordia is headlined by senior guard Mandy Pearson, the 2003-04 MICA most valuable player. She ranks third in MICA games in scoring (255 ppg), first in assists (75 appg) and steals (33 spg) and fourth in assist-turnover ratio (1.52). The key to slowing down the top-ranked offense in the MICA may be found, however, in her backcourt mates, sophomores Anne Keeley and senior Jamie Wisness. In two of their three MICA losses, Wisness has struggled, going a combined 3-for-14 in early-season losses to St. Benedict and Gustavus. In Carleton’s Jan. 5 win, the Knights held Kelle to four points on 1-of-5 shooting. One of the MIAC’s top rookies, Melanie Hageman, joins sophomore Tori Ehlert in the starting rotation, providing for a youthful but talented front line.

The Cobbers are 10-0 when scoring 70 points or more and 3-4 when they are under 70 points. Conversely, they’re 9-1 when holding opponents to less than 70 points.

The Cobbers use the three-point shot very effectively, ranking second in the MIAC in three-point accuracy at 34.5 percent. They’re the MIAC’s top free-throw shooting team at 72.1 percent, third in overall shooting at 42.4 percent and first in turnover margin at +4.00. Defensively, however, the Cobbers are sixth in points allowed (65.7 ppg) and field-goal percentage defense (40.4 percent).

The Cobbers are coached by Jessica (Beachy) Rahman, a 1988 graduate of Concordia and former two-time MIAC most valuable player. She is 34-11 in her second season.

Carleton—Concordia Series

The Knights have won 10 straight games over the Cobbers but trail in the all-time series, 36-10, as Concordia won the first 36 meetings. Carleton has swept the regular-season series from the Cobbers in each of the last four seasons and beat Carleton in last year’s championship tournament finale.

Last Meeting: Jan. 5, 2004, Carleton 73, Concordia 67

Megan Vig and Kari Christianson scored 20 points each as 25th-ranked Carleton shot lights out in the first half and held on for a 73-68 victory over host Concordia-Moorhead. Christianson was 6-for-8 from the floor and a perfect 7-of-7 from the line in tallying her career high in points scored. Vig narrowly missed her second consecutive double-double with nine rebounds.

Kate Krueger added nine points and three assists and Taylor Ross tallied a career-best seven points, as she knocked down both of her three-point attempts in the first half.

Jamie Visness and Mandy Pearson paced the Cobbers with 18 points each. Pearson added six assists and five steals, but Carleton forced her into seven turnovers and an 8-for-20 performance from the field.

Listings are season-highs first, followed by career. Only one list in a category indicates season and career high are equal.
Carleton shot a school-record 72.7 percent in the first half, capping 16-of-22 shots, in erasing an early nine-point deficit to lead 40-28 at the break. Trailing 16-7, the Knights made an incredible 12 consecutive field goal attempts, using a 25-8 spurt over the nine-minute stretch. The Knights would shoot an equally cold 6-for-20 in the second half, as they went without a field goal for the first 6:12 of the second half. They still led by 10, 49-39, with under 10 minutes remaining, but the Cobbers pulled within three on a Pearson drive and hoop with 4:27 remaining. The Knights, however, converted on 15-of-18 from the free-throw line over the final 4:14 to secure their 10th consecutive victory over the Cobbers.

The big statistic came on the free-throw line, as the Knights held a 23-9 edge in points from the free-throw line, going 23-for-31 compared to 9-of-15 for the hosts.

Up Next
Carleton begins the home stretch by traveling to St. Paul to face St. Catherine on Wednesday, Feb. 9 at 7:30 p.m. The game can be heard worldwide on Knights Online, with Eric Sieger and Pete Newburg providing the call. Carleton plays three of its final four games on the road.

Tammy Metcalf-Filzen
Tammy Metcalf-Filzen is in her eighth season as head coach at Carleton. In only seven seasons she has turned the program into a conference contender, leading them to four consecutive MIAC Playoff titles, 20-win seasons and NCAA Tournament bids in 2000-01, 2001-02, 2002-03 and 2003-04. The Knights have won the MIAC’s regular-season title in 2002-03 and 2003-04. She was named the 2003-04 MIAC coach of the year, a year after she was named the MIAC co-coach of the year and repeated as WBCA Region Coach of the Year, leading the Knights to a school-record 25 victories. She earned the same honors in 2000-01. She previously served as head coach at St. Olaf and as an assistant at Temple and Minnesota. She is Carleton’s all-time winningest coach. Metcalf-Filzen has presided over one of the most remarkable turnarounds in all of NCAA Division III women’s basketball. When she took over prior to the 1997-98 season, the Knights had a program winning percentage of .323. Since Metcalf-Filzen assumed the head coaching position, the program has winning percentage of .715 and has posted its first 20-win seasons. Metcalf-Filzen has led Carleton to a 74-13 record over the last three seasons and 95-18 over the last four seasons, heading into the 2004-05 season.

Carleton has improved its record in each of Metcalf-Filzen’s first six seasons and her .688 winning percentage is the best in school history. A 1983 St. Olaf graduate, Metcalf-Filzen earned her M.S. from the University of Minnesota in 1987. She won four varsity letters as a point guard for the Oles, twice earned All-MIAC honors, led the NCAA Division III in free-throw percentage in 1982-83, and was inducted into the St. Olaf Hall of Fame in 1999 and the Northfield Hall of Fame in 1992.

Metcalf-Filzen owns a 176-83 record in 10 seasons overall and 150-57 in eight seasons at Carleton.
