Carleton looks to get back on track, clinch first-round bye

Carleton, coming off its first MIC loss of the season, seeks to start the stretch run by securing a top-two seed in the upcoming MIC Playoffs and the first-round bye which comes with it when the Knights travel to the College of St. Catherine.

The Knights are still in the driver’s seat for their third consecutive MIC regular-season title, as they need two more wins to secure at least a share of the crown and three more for the outright title and the top seed in the conference tourney. The Wildcats, meanwhile, have lost 11 of their last 12 games.

Broadcast information

Wednesday game can be heard worldwide on Carleton’s website (www.carleton.edu/athletics/broadcasts/) using QuickTime Player. Eric Sieger and Pete Newburg will provide the call.

Last time out – Concordia 65, at Carleton 52

Beth Freeman scored 13 points and grabbed 12 rebounds and Megan Viggali tallied 16 points and eight rebounds but No. 17 Carleton had its 15-game winning streak ended by Concordia, 65-52. Mandy Pearson and Anne Kleeby scored 14 points each and Pearson for the Cobbers, who ended a 10-game losing streak to the Knights.

The Cobbers led essentially the entire way, grabbing the lead at 10-9 and using a 10-0 spurt midway through the first half to lead 35-25 at the break. The visitors extended the margin to as many as 20 before the Knights chipped away, using a 13-4 run to pull within 16, 62-52, with 2:03 left. The Knights, however, couldn’t overcome the deficit in having their 24-game home winning streak ended.

The home-court winning streak was a school record and the 15-game winning streak was the second-best in school history.

The Cobbers held the Knights to 29 percent shooting in the second half and owned a sizable 34-23 spread on points in the paint. The Cobbers helped themselves by canning 5-for-10 three-pointers in the first half. Carleton got to the line with regularity, but went 15-for-26 compared to the Cobbers’ 6-of-9 performance.

Knights drop to 23rd in latest D3hoops.com poll

Carleton fell six spots to 23rd in the latest D3hoops.com top 25 poll. The Knights have been ranked six consecutive weeks and 42 of the last 66 weeks, dating back to the 2002-03 season. Carleton is one of two MIC teams to be ranked, as College of St. Benedict remained 24th. The Knights remain unranked in the ESPN/USA Today/WBCA poll while the Blazers are ranked 9th despite losing twice to Carleton by a combined margin of 42 points.

Metcalf-Filzen reaches 150 wins at Carleton

With last Wednesday’s win over Gustavus, Carleton head coach Tammy Metcalf-Filzen reached the 150-win mark in her eighth season at Carleton. With Monday’s win against Augsburg she reached the 175th career win. Since taking over the Carleton program in 1997-98, she’s amassed the second-most wins among any MIC coach, going 150-58. Over the last five seasons she leads all MIC coaches with a 111-22 (.835) record.

Defense continues as Knights’ strong suit

Despite the end of their 15-game winning streak on Saturday, Carleton continues to far outpace the other MIC teams in terms of defensive scoring average. The Knights are holding teams to 52.4 points per game, more than eight points better than the next-best average of 60.8 by Gustavus. Six times in 16 conference contests the Knights have their foes to less than 50 points. No conference team has yet to score more than 70 points against the Knights. Only Concordia-Moorhead (twice) and Hamline managed to break the 60-point barrier against the Knights in MIC play. The MIC scoring Defense average record is 49.4 points per game, set by St. Thomas in a 20-game conference season in 1996-97.

About St. Catherine

The youthful Wildcats have struggled in the MIAC's second half, going 1-6 and dropping 11 of their last 12 MIAC games after starting a respectable 2-3 in conference play.

St. Catherine head coach Tim Kjar has but one senior, starting guard Natalie Lyzhoft, and counts five sophomores and four first-year players among his regular rotation. The Wildcats were dealt a tough blow when returning All-MIAC forward Jenna Martin was lost prior to the season's start with an injury.

The Wildcats are still a dangerous team, as they've played right with league leaders St. Benedict (tied 41-41 at halftime) and Concordia (trailing by eight with four minutes left) over the last week. Sophomore Sarah Schneider is a threat down low, averaging 13.4 points per game while shooting 55.7 percent from the floor, ranking second in the MIAC in the category. Sophomore guard Kate Bremmer, a MIAC all-first-year team pick last season, is second on the squad with a 12.6 points-per-game average and is joined in a four-guard starting lineup by rookie Shelly Soule (10.1 ppg) and senior Lyzhoft (10.7 ppg). Rookie Rachel Berglund has started as of late and is a three-point threat, as is reserve Michel Wihagen.

The Wildcats are coached by Tim Kjar, a 1995 graduate of Nebraska-Kearney. He is 41-104 in his seventh season.

Carleton—St. Catherine Series

Carleton brings a 20-game winning streak into Wednesday's contest over St. Catherine, dating back to the 1989-90 season. Carleton has won 12 of the 16 meetings at St. Catherine and head coach Tammy Wetsall-Filzen is 15-0 against the Wildcats. The Knights are 24-9 all-time against the Wildcats, dating back to the first meeting on Feb. 6, 1975, a 51-26 Wildcat win in St. Paul.

Last Meeting: Jan. 12, 2004, at Carleton 63, St. Catherine 44

Megan Vig scored 17 points and Kristi Colbenson and Kari Christianson added 15 each as Carleton bolted to a big early lead and used a 10-0 spurt late to defeat St. Catherine, 63-44.

Carleton scored 17 of the game's first 23 points and forced St. Kate's into 17 turnovers, holding a 16-3 edge in points off turnovers.

The Wildcats were paced by Rebecca Theis with 11 points and five rebounds off the bench. She was the only player to score in double figures for the visitors. The turnovers and a 3-of-13 performance from the floor hurt any chances the Wildcats had against the nation's 23rd-ranked team.

Carleton broke to a 13-2 lead as Christianson scored seven of her points in the first four minutes. Carleton extended the lead to as many as 15 before Rachel Bergland drilled a three-pointer at the horn to leave the Knights ahead, 34-22, at the break.

The Knights enjoyed a double-digit lead most of the second half and finally put the pesky Wildcats away with 10 unanswered points over a five-minute stretch. Christianson blocked a shot at the defensive end and scored inside to start the spurt, with a Kate Krueger steal leading to a Vig fast-break lay-up to cap the run. Neither team shot the ball well, as the Knights made 37 percent of their shots compared to 35 percent for St. Kate's. Carleton, however, made 6-6 22 from the charity stripe and committed a season-low 10 turnovers.

Playoff picture shapes up for Knights

Carleton is still firmly in control of its own conference tournament destiny. A win over St. Catherine clinches a first-round bye and semifinal home game on Wednesday, Feb. 23. To gain the top seed and the outright MIAC title the Knights need wins in three of their final four games. Carleton is seeking its third consecutive MIAC regular-season title and fifth straight MIAC Playoff title.

Tammy Metcalf-Filzen
Tammy Metcalf-Filzen is in her eighth season as head coach at Carleton. In only seven seasons she has turned the program into a contender, leading them to four consecutive MIAC Playoff titles, 20-win seasons and NCAA Tournament bids in 2000-01, 2001-02, 2002-03 and 2003-04. The Knights have won the MIAC's regular-season title in 2002-03 and 2003-04. She was named the 2003-04 MIAC coach of the year, a year after she was named the MIAC co-coach of the year and repeated as WBCA Region Coach of the Year, leading the Knights to a school-record 25 victories. She earned the same honors in 2000-01. She previously served as head coach at St. Olaf and as an assistant at Temple and Minnesota. She is Carleton's all-time winningest coach. Metcalf-Filzen has presided over one of the most remarkable turnarounds in all of NCAA Division III women's basketball. When she took over prior to the 1997-98 season, the Knights had a program winning percentage of .373. Since Metcalf-Filzen assumed the head coaching position, the program has a winning percentage of .715 and has posted its first 20-win seasons. Metcalf-Filzen has led Carleton to a 74-13 record over the last three seasons and 95-18 over the last four seasons, heading into the 2004-05 season.

Carleton has improved its record in each of Metcalf-Filzen’s first six seasons and her .688 winning percentage is the best in school history. A 1983 St. Olaf graduate, Metcalf-Filzen earned her M.S. from the University of Minnesota in 1987. She won four varsity letters as a point guard for the Oles, twice earned All-MIAC honors, led the NCAA Division III in free-throw percentage in 1982-83, and was inducted into the St. Olaf Hall of Fame in 1999 and the Northfield Hall of Fame in 1992.

Metcalf-Filzen owns a 176-84 record in 10 seasons overall and 150-58 in eight seasons at Carleton.
