LAST GAME
Zach Johnson returned to the Knights' lineup and posted a double-double as Carleton recorded a 62-51 victory over Saint Mary's. Johnson had a team-best 16 points and pulled down 10 rebounds for his second double-double of the year.

Defensive was the story for Carleton as the Knights limited Saint Mary's to 29.3 percent shooting. The Cardinals were 5-for-26 (19.2 percent) from beyond the arc. While Carleton also struggled with its long range shooting, connecting on only 4 of 20 attempts (20 percent), it was the hard work at the defensive end of the floor that paid dividends throughout the tilt.

Johnson sat out Wednesday's victory after sustaining a concussion on Jan. 5 at St. Thomas. He now sits 12th on Carleton's all-time scoring list with 1,119 points, three more than Tommy Drake.

 Knights News and Notes

- The Knights are off to their best start (10-2) since beginning the 1997-98 campaign with a 10-2 mark.

- The injury bug bit Carleton on January 5 at St. Thomas as point guard Jeremy Sutherland and leading scorer Zach Johnson were both injured on the same play. Sutherland suffered a displaced fracture in his shooting hand, while Johnson sustained a concussion. Sutherland underwent surgery on Jan. 9 to insert two pins. A timetable for his return is not available. Johnson returned to the Knights’ lineup a week later after receiving medical clearance. They are not the only Carleton players to miss time as wing Tommy Drake missed the Dec. 12 game at Wisconsin-La Crosse to have surgery to repair a broken nose, an injury that occurred during the Knights’ victory over Concordia on Dec. 1.

- Carleton boasts a pair of 1,000-point scorers. Junior Zach Johnson enters tonight 12th on the school’s all-time scoring list with 1,119 points. Right on his heels is senior Tommy Drake who’s 13th with 1,116 points. (SEE CHART ON PAGE 4.) Who’s next in line to join Drake and Johnson in the 1,000-point club? Bryan Rosett, who has 374 career points.

- Carleton leads the all-time series against St. Olaf College 109-83. Carleton has won 7 of the last eight. (FOR MORE INFO ON THE GOAT TROPHY, SEE PAGE 4).

- Carleton has allowed 65.0 points over its seven MIAC contests, best in the league but has scored 69.7 points, which ranks 10th out of the 11 teams. The Knights lead the league by limiting conference foes to connect on only 30.8 percent of their three-point attempts.

- Carleton already has eight road wins this season after posting a 5-10 mark away from home last season.

- Carleton has hit at least one three-pointer in all 268 games since the start of the 1997-98 campaign. It is believed to be one of the 10 longest active streaks among Division III teams.

- Eight of the Knights’ 12 games have been decided by eight points or less.

- A strong start is important for every team, and Carleton is proving that this year. The Knights are 8-0 when leading at halftime. Carleton is 2-2 this season when trailng at the half compared to 5-11 a year ago. Dating back to Feb. 7, 2007, the Knights have come back to win five of the last eight games in which they were behind at intermission.

- During the 2006-07 season, the Knights led all of the NCAA (regardless of division) in fewest fouls per game, as they averaged a mere 13.2 personal fouls in each contest. This year Carleton has been whistled for 13.6 fouls per game.

- Head Coach Guy Kalland is one of only five coaches in MIAC history to have won 250 conference games.

- Carleton has not missed the MIAC playoffs since 2000-01.

- Carleton began the season with a six-game win streak. It was the Knights longest win streak since 17 consecutive wins from Jan. 2-Feb. 23, 2006.

Scouting the Oles

St. Olaf is 5-8 overall with a 3-5 record in the MIAC. The Oles won two of three games last week with wins over Saint John’s, 71-67, on Jan. 7 and Macalester, 68-63, on Jan. 12.

The Oles get their scoring from senior forward Bobby Hunter, who is seventh in the MIAC at 6.23 assists per game and assist-to-turnover ratio 2.29. Last week Banick got his 300th career assist. He even has a pair of double-digit assist games this year.

Sophomore guard Mark Torrell averages 11.5 points a game and is coming off a 20-point effort on Saturday. He's second on the team in scoring and has knocked down a squad-best 18 triples.

Junior center Brady McMahon (8.8 rpg, 5.2 rpg) had double doubles in the Oles last two games. He is eighth in the league in field goal percentage and 15th in rebounding.

While ranking in the middle of the pack in most statistical categories, the Oles have permitted opponents to connect on 41.0 percent of their three-point attempts.

Fourteen players have seen court time for the Oles with 10 of them playing in at least 11 of the team's 13 contests.

The Oles recorded their first post-season victory last season, an 81-79 triumph over Bethel in the opening round of the MIAC playoffs.

THE GOAT TROPHY

- Carleton and St. Olaf are meeting for the 194th time tonight in one of the hottest small college basketball rivalries in the Midwest.
- To add to this unique rivalry, the two teams have battled for the “Goat Trophy” for the past 93 years. As the story goes, Endre Anderson, a St. Olaf student (and later Oles coach from 1920-27) fashioned a makeshift goat out of a chair and hung it from the rafters of the St. Olaf gymnasium back in 1914, trying to “get the goat” of the Carleton players. Carleton won that contest and claimed the Goat as a symbol of the victory. The two teams have traded the “Goat” ever since. During the trophy’s beginnings, the Knights have eclipsed double digits every game this season.

- The all-time series, which began in 1910, is 109-83 advantage (the result of an early series matchup is unavailable). On February 23, 1939, the game between St. Olaf and Carleton was cancelled because of an influenza Virus breakout. Carleton has won 16 of the last 24 and 26 of the last 36 meetings between the two schools. The squads split the games last season. The teams first met in 1910, with St. Olaf sweeping the season series.

- The team not in possession of the Goat Trophy must be sweep the season series in order to wrest control away from the other team.

- After earning of the “Goat” with a pair of wins in 1958, St. Olaf maintained possession until 1989-90 when Carleton prevailed in a pair of close contests. The trophy has resided with Carleton every year since, except the 2002-03 season when the Oles pulled out a pair of overtime victories.

- This rivalry is believed to be one of the 20-most played series in the country, and likely in the top 10 in the Midwest.
