LAST GAME FOR CARLETON

The Knights came up short, 61-60, in a thrilling contest against cross-town rival St. Olaf College. In the 95th all-time meeting between the teams, the outcome was in doubt until the very end.

Carleton was led by junior Zach Johnson with 14 points, five rebounds, three assists, three blocks and two steals. Teammate Bryan Rossett added 10 points and nine boards.

After St. Olaf jumped out to a 2-0 lead, the Knights quickly countered with a 21-7 run over the next eight minutes and eventually carried a 32-25 lead into halftime. The Oles hit four of their initial six shots to open the second half, trimming the deficit to a single point, 36-35. The Knights, however, scored 17 of the game’s next 25 points to re-build a 10-point edge, 53-43, with 7:44 left.

The Oles got hot again and knocked down seven of their final 10 shots, including a pair of three-pointers, in out-scoring the Knights 18-7 down the stretch. That streak included five of Chad Norberg’s game-high 18 points by Norberg. The Oles matched their largest lead of the contest when Norberg’s three-pointer pushed the visitors in front 59-57 with 0:47 remaining.

Tommy Drake’s tip in knotted the score, 59-59, on Carleton’s next possession, and he was then able to knock down one of two free to give the Knights a short-lived lead.

Steve Banick’s layup with 4.9 seconds left capped the scoring, yet Carleton had one more chance, but Drake was unable to convert in traffic. St. Olaf has a leg up in the battle for the Goat Trophy.

Knights News and Notes

• This will be Guy Kalland’s 599th career game as Carleton head coach. He is one of only five coaches in MIAC history to have won 250 conference games.

• This is the 100th all-time meeting between these schools, in a series that began back in 1912 with a 26-20 Carleton victory. The Knights have won 66 of the previous 99 contests and have prevailed in 30 of the last 38.

• Carleton has allowed 64.5 points over its seven MIAC contests, best in the league but has scored 68.5 points, which ranks last out of the 11 teams. The Knights are 10th with a 44.8 field-goal percentage but third by limiting conference foes to 43.8 percent from the floor, including 32.2% from beyond the three-point line. That will be factor today as Macalester takes and makes more 3’s than any other MIAC team.

• Carleton already has eight road wins this season after posting a 5-10 mark away from home last season.

• The Knights are off to their best start (10-3) since beginning the 1997-98 campaign with an 11-2 mark.

• Carleton boasts a pair of 1,000-point scorers. Junior Zach Johnson enters tonight 12th on the school’s all-time scoring list with 1,133 points, three behind Jim Tolf for 11th on that chart. Close behind Johnson is senior Tommy Drake, who ranks 13th with 1,124 points. (SEE CHART ON PAGE 4.) Who’s next in line to join Drake and Johnson in the 1,000-point club? Bryan Rosett, who has 384 career points.

• The injury bug bit Carleton on January 5 at St. Thomas as point guard Jeremy Sutherland and leading scorer Zach Johnson were both injured on the same play. Sutherland suffered a displaced fracture in his shooting had, while Johnson sustained a concussion. Sutherland underwent surgery on Jan. 9 to insert two pins. A timetable for his return is not available. Johnson returned to the Knights’ lineup a week later after receiving medical clearance. They are not the only Carleton players to miss time as wing Tommy Drake missed the Dec. 12 game at Wisconsin-La Crosse to have surgery to repair a broken nose, an injury that occurred during Carleton’s victory over Concordia on Dec. 1.

• Carleton has hit at least one three-pointer in all 269 games since the start of the 1997-98 campaign. It is believed to be one of the 10 longest active streaks among Division III teams.
• Nine of the Knights’ 13 games have been decided by eight points or less, including three by two points or less.
• A strong start is important for every team, and Carleton is proving that this year. The Knights are 8-1 when leading at halftime. Carleton is 2-2 this season when trailing at the half compared to 5-11 a year ago. Dating back to Feb. 7, 2007, the Knights have come back to win five of the last eight games in which they were behind at intermission.
• During the 2006-07 season, the Knights led all of the NCAA (regardless of division) in fewest fouls per game, as they averaged a mere 13.2 personal fouls in each contest. This year Carleton has been whistled for 13.2 fouls per game.
• Carleton has not missed the MIAC playoffs since 2000-01.

Scouting the Scots

The Scots have attempted the fewest free throws among MIAC teams during conference action, and are making a league-low 61.5% of their shots from the charity stripe.

The Scots are getting out-rebounded by MIAC opponents 41-28 this season. They also rank last in blocked shots and assists.

One area Macalester has excelled is protecting the basketball, committing only 12 turnovers a game, best in the MIAC.

The Scots are led by senior forward Tom Conboy who is averaging 24.7 point and 11.1 rebounds this season. The focus of the Macalester offense, he has made more baskets than all but one teammate, senior guard Abe Woldeslassie, have even attempted.

Conboy, a two-time All-MAIC selection, is second on Macalester’s all-time scoring list with 1,649 points. That total puts him 58 points out of the top spot.

He has reached double-digits in every game this year and has seven double-doubles.

Woldeslassie is the other half of the Scots 1-2 punch, averaging 17.6 points and 5.1 assists per contest.

A third senior, Brian Ranwick, has scored the majority of his points from beyond the three-point line. He’s made only eight shots inside the arc and 33 from downtown.
