- Carleton boasts a pair of 1,000-point scorers. Junior Zach Johnson enters tonight 11th on the school’s all-time scoring list with 1,174 points, 22 in back of Tanner Schieck for 10th. Close behind Johnson is senior Tommy Drake, who ranks 12th with 1,150 points. Who’s next in line to join Drake and Johnson in the 1,000-point club? Bryan Rosett, who has 414 career points.

- Carleton has allowed 65.1 points over its seven MIAC contests, best in the league but has scored 68.6 points, which ranks last out of the 11 teams. The Knights are fourth with a 46.3 field-goal percentage and by limiting conference foes to 44.8 percent from the floor, including 34.0% from beyond the three-point line.

- Carleton already has nine road wins this season after posting a 5-10 mark away from home last season.

- 11 of the Knights’ 15 games have been decided by eight points or less, including three by two points or less.

- The injury bug bit Carleton on January 5 at St. Thomas as point guard Jeremy Sutherland and leading scorer Zach Johnson were both injured on the same play. Sutherland suffered a displaced fracture in his shooting hand, while Johnson sustained a concussion. Sutherland underwent surgery on Jan. 9 to insert two pins. A timetable for his return is not available.

- Carleton has hit at least one three-pointer in all 271 games since the start of the 1997-98 campaign. It is believed to be one of the 10 longest active streaks among Division III teams.

- A strong start is important for every team, and Carleton is proving that this year. The Knights are 8-1 when leading at halftime. Carleton is 3-3 this season when trailing at the half compared to 5-11 a year ago. Dating back to Feb. 7, 2007, the Knights have come back to win 6 of the last 10 games in which they were behind at intermission.

- During the 2006-07 season, the Knights led all of the NCAA (regardless of division) in fewest fouls per game, as they averaged a mere 13.2 personal fouls in each contest. This year Carleton has been whistled for 13.0 fouls per game.

In that contest, Augsburg knocked down a season-high 11 three-pointers. Junior guard David Olson had 23 points and senior backcourt mate Justin Kozlowski added 20 points.

Olson has averaged 21.0 points in his last three games since returning to the starting rotation.

Femi Solaja is a force on the boards as he has 10 double-digit rebounds performances this season. He joins Macalester’s Tom Conboy as the only MIAC players to average a double-double this season. Solaja is accounting for 13.6 points and 11.6 boards per game.

Jon Cassens, a member of the 2006-07 All First-Year Team, leads Augsburg in scoring with 14.4 points from his guard position.

Like Carleton, the Auggies are not shy about putting up shots from the outside. They are averaging 18 attempts per MIAC game, fourth in the conference.

Previous Meeting-- at Augsburg, Nov. 28, 2007:
Carleton 66, Augsburg 59

Jeremy Sutherland tallied a career-best 20 points, Zach Johnson added 19 points and Carter Biewen shook off a slow shooting start to tally a trio of key three-pointers down the stretch as Carleton rallied for a 66-59 win at Augsburg College in the MIAC opener for both squads.

Johnson’s point total pushed him past the 1,000-point mark for his career, as he became the 9th Carleton player to join the exclusive club. He achieved the mark in only his 65th career game.

He reached the 1,000-point milestone on a three-point shot with five and half minutes remaining before halftime.

The Knights rallied from a seven-point halftime deficit, taking its first lead in the final five minutes on a Biewen triple. Carleton scored the final seven points to secure the win. Sutherland tallied the team’s final six points to cap his 15-point second half.
