Playoff push in full swing as Knights battle Cardinals, Oles

Carleton puts their playoff hopes on the line this week against two squads who are in the race for the final two MIAC playoff positions. The Knights travel to Winona tonight to take on the Saint Mary’s Cardinals and on Saturday afternoon they play their cross-town rivals, St. Olaf, in a boat for the Goat Trophy.

The Knights emphatically ended their four-game losing streak on Monday night with a 98-61 thrashing of Hamline. Tommy Drake led the way with 23 points and Jake Phillips added 16 points and eight assists in the victory.

Knights News and Notes

- Jake Phillips is closing in on a rare milestone for Carleton. He has 999 career points and 397 career assists. Only one other Carleton player, Scott Christensen ’03, has posted more than 1,000 points and 400 assists in a career. Only three MIAC players – Christensen and Bethel’s Keith Newman (1989-92) and Dave Blanchard (1977-80) – have accomplished the same feat.
- With two wins this week over Saint Mary’s and St. Olaf, coupled with a Macalester win tonight over the Oles, Carleton will clinch an MIAC playoff berth for the 14th time in the last 18 seasons.
- If Carleton failed to qualify for the MIAC playoffs, they would be the first team since the conference moved to the current six-team format to miss the playoffs after making the MIAC championship game the previous season.
- Head Coach Guy Kalland is one of only five coaches in MIAC history to have won 250 conference games. Kalland ranks fourth on the list with 255 career MIAC victories.
- Carleton has not missed the MIAC playoffs since 2000-01.
- The Knights lead Division III in fewest fouls per game, as they average a mere 13.3 personal fouls in each contest. The only team in any Division which averages less fouls than Carleton is Alabama, with 12.9.
- Carleton’s 11.2 turnovers per game is sixth best in the nation.
- Saint Mary’s has not qualified for the MIAC playoffs since 1984-85, a span of 22 seasons.
- St. Olaf is 2-12 in their last 14 games in the month of February, including 0-2 this year.

Scouting the Cardinals:

Saint Mary’s rollercoaster season had them eveying a possible MIAC playoff bid before two straight losses has put those sights in serious doubt. The Cardinals had a stretch of five straight losses followed by four victories in five games before falling to St. Olaf and Gustavus earlier this week.

After some midseason roster shuffling, the Cardinals appear to have found their groove, despite the recent losses. Head coach Mike Trewick believes if the Cardinals can run the table, beginning tonight against the Knights, that they will qualify for the MIAC playoffs for the first time since 1983-84.

The Cards are led by senior guard Brensley Haywood. Haywood is leading the team in both points, steals and assists, averaging 13.3 points and 3.7 assists per game. Haywood was an All-MIAC honorable mention selection last season, and he is likely to duplicate those honors this year.

The Knights twins, Brad and Josh, have moved into the starting lineup for the Cardinals. Both freshmen, the duo start at the shooting guard and small forward positions. Josh Knights is averaging 5.1 points and 2.3 rebounds per game, while Brad is posting 4.2 points and 1.6 rebounds a contest.

The Cardinal bench is extremely thin with the loss of Terrence Smith and Alex Washington, two starters, earlier this season. Mikey Sweeney and John Gencius are the two most significant contributors off the bench, as each guard is averaging over 10 minutes a game. Sophomore forward Nick Carr has come on strong as of late, posting an average of seven points per game in his last three outings.

Earlier this season at Northfield: W, 77-49

Tommy Drake scored 22 points and added 11 rebounds and Zach Johnson added 19 points, eight steals and six rebounds as Carleton emphatically took down Saint Mary’s, 77-49.

Jake Phillips added 11 points and seven assists for the Knights. Carleton shot 57 percent from the floor in building a 42-24 halftime lead and connected on 50 percent of its shots overall for the game.
Scouting the Oles:

St. Olaf appears poised for their fifth playoff appearance in school history and their first since 2002-03. With a win tonight against Macalester, the Oles magic number for clinching a berth will be one. Winning in February, however, has not been easy for the Oles in recent seasons, as they are just 2-12 in February over the last three seasons, including 0-2 this year.

The Oles have done it with defense this season, holding opponents to just .64 points per game, which ranks third in the MIAC. St. Olaf is a veteran bunch, as their top seven players are all upperclassmen. This combination of experience and defense has gotten the Oles in the playoff hunt.

Mark Bergstrom paces St. Olaf as the senior averages 11.3 points a game and also provides strong defense. Fellow senior Jon Bain has posted consistent numbers once again this season. An All-MIAC honorable mention selection last year, Bain is averaging 8.4 points and 7.1 rebounds for the Oles.

Steve Banick has turned in the best season of his career, posting a team-high 93 assists to go along with a team-leading 35.8 percent three-point shooting. At the other guard position is senior Jon Butala. Butala is nearly averaging in double figures with 9.6 points per game.

The final starter for head coach Dan Kozmoski is sophomore center Mitch Haugen. Haugen is one of the few underclassmen for the Oles as he is third on the team in rebounding at 4.4 boards per game while also posting nearly five points a contest.

Depth for the Oles is not an issue as five players are averaging over 13 minutes per game off the bench. This crew is led by Chad Norberg. One of the top sixth men in the MIAC, Norberg is second on the team in scoring at 10.0 points per game.

Kozmoski is in his 14th season at the helm for St. Olaf. His career record is 136-180.

The meeting between the Knights and Oles will be the 192nd time the two schools have tangled on the hardwood. The famed Goat Trophy will go to the winner of Saturday's game. Carleton has held the 92-year old trophy for sixteen of the last seventeen seasons.

Earlier this Season

at Skoglund Center: L, 51-67

The Oles posted a decisive 67-51 victory over the Knights for the largest Ole win since 1982. Jon Butala paced the Oles with 15 points and five rebounds and Mark Bergstrom added 11 points and 11 rebounds.

The Oles made 50 percent (8-for-16) of their three-pointers, outrebounded the Knights 43-22 and generally held the Knights scoreless. Tommy Drake scored 15 points and added seven rebounds, four assists, two steals and two blocked shots for the Knights.
