Carleton heads down the stretch looking to qualify for the MIAC playoffs. Right now, the Knights are in a tie with Macalester for the sixth and final spot. The Knights begin their stretch of games with teams fighting for the last MIAC playoff bids, tonight against Hamline.

The Pipers are 5-11 in conference play, and likely have to run the table to make the play-offs. Hamline defeated the Knights 75-70 the first time these two teams met this season.

Knights News and Notes

- Jake Phillips is closing in on a rare milestone for Carleton. He has 983 career points and 389 career assists. Only one other Carleton player, Scott Christensen ’03, has posted more than 1,000 points and 400 assists in a career. Only three MIAC players – Christensen and Bethel’s Keith Newman (1989-92) and Dave Blanchard (1977-80) – have accomplished the same feat.
- If Carleton failed to qualify for the MIAC playoffs, they would be the first team since the conference moved to the current six-team format to miss the playoffs after making the MIAC championship game the previous season.
- On the Knights’ current four game losing streak, they are shooting just 35.6 percent from the field and a paltry 27.8 from beyond the arc. In contrast, their opponents are shooting 46.0 percent from the floor and a paltry 27.8 from beyond the arc. In contrast, their opponents are shooting 46.0 percent from the floor and 41.7 percent from 3 pt. range.
- Head Coach Guy Kalland is one of only five coaches in MIAC history to have won 250 conference games. Kalland ranks fourth on the list with 254 career MIAC victories.
- Carleton has not missed the MIAC playoffs since 2000-01.
- The Knights lead the nation in fewest fouls per game, as they average a mere 13.2 personal fouls in each contest.
- Carleton’s 51.7 turnovers per game is fourth best in the nation.
- St. Thomas is the sixth best shooting team in the country, as they are shooting a 51.4 percent clip. They are also ninth in the rebounding margin, with a +8.7 advantage over their opponents.
- Hamline is surrendering an MIAC worst 79.6 points per game to their opponents and they have not held a team under 65 points all year.
- The Knights are just 8-10 on the road this season.

Provable Starter and Reserve Notes (Updated Jan. 31):

#21 Jake Phillips, Sr., G, 6-2, Brainerd, Minn. (Brainerd HS); His 214 career three-point field goals made is third all-time at Carleton and ninth all-time in the MIAC...Ranks third all-time at Carleton with a 43.7% three-point shooting percentage, and third all-time at Carleton with 387 career assists. Only one other Carleton player, Scott Christensen ’03, has posted more than 1,000 points and 400 assists in a career. Scouting the Tommies:
Zach Johnson scored 15 points and Tommy Drake added eight points and nine rebounds in his first game back after missing the last three games with illness, but Carleton College managed only 16 second-half points and lost its fourth straight game, 51-41, at sixth-ranked St. Thomas.

Isaac Rosefelt had 12 points and 11 rebounds for the Tommies and Bryan Schnettler added 12 points–all in the first half–for the Toms.

The Knights (7-13, 6-9 MIAC) trailed 28-25 at the break and pulled within 33-31, but the Tommies outscored the Knights 18-10 over the final 12:30. Keating scored 12 of the Toms’ last 14 points, including 4-of-4 free throws in the final 1:34.

The Knights out-rebounded UST 36-33 but had 14 turnovers to the Toms’ 11. Carleton shot only 26 percent from the floor. The loss left the Knights in a sixth-place tie with St. Mary’s and one game back of St. Olaf College.
Today’s Opponent:
Hamline Pipers

Scouting the Pipers:
The Pipers are unquestionably the biggest disappointment of the MIAC this season, as they have followed up their surprising season last year with a second to last place showing thus far. The problem has been Hamline’s inability to stop opponents on the offensive end, which has led them to surrender an average of around 80 points per game. Their defensive ineptitude is the reason why this young team, after taking one big step forward last year, has taken two steps back in 2006-07.

The Pipers have played well of late, winning two straight contests to climb out of the MIAC cellar. Travelling to West Gymnasium does not bode well for Hamline, as the Pipers are 1-10 on the road this season. Hamline has held just one team under 70 points this season when playing in their opponent’s gym. The Pipers have also done some lineup shuffling in recent games, trying to find something to spark the club.

A pair of sophomores lead the way for Hamline, in Tony Thrasher and Jon DeRock. Both earned MIAC accolades for their performances as freshman last year. This season, the duo is first and second on their team in scoring at 16.7 and 16.2 points per game, respectively. Thrasher is the team’s leader in rebounding, while DeRock is leading Piper squad in steals.

One of the only players on the Piper roster who is known for his defense is senior guard Sam Wiener. A two-year starter, he is one of the lone bright spots in the Piper defense as he has been named to the All-MIAC defensive squad two years in a row. Wiener also leads the team in assists with 3.8 per game.

Zev Kujolic has been inserted into the starting lineup after being the Pipers’ sixth man for the first half of the season. He is averaging 5.1 points and 2.2 rebounds per contest.

Big man Kyle Foster, who controlled the paint for Hamline in the early stages of the season is no longer with the team. Foster was an All-MIAC honorable mention selection a season ago and his team’s leading rebounder at 7.6 boards a game before his departure. Eric Gusaas and Brad Blake have traded off the vacant starting center position in the last four games. The team’s sixth man is Chris Babcock, who has traded roles with Kujolic.

At the helm for the Pipers is Barry Wohler, who is in his third season. Wohler had improved the team’s win total each of the last two seasons but he will be unable to do so this year. He has amassed a 27-44 record for Hamline.

Earlier this season at Saint Paul: L, 70-75
Jake Phillips led Carleton with 20 points and Tommy Drake added 14 points, but the Knights shot 29 percent in the second half in falling at Hamline University, 75-70. The Knights managed only nine total field goals over the final 20 minutes and shot only 37 percent for the game.

Kyle Foster paced Hamline with 20 points and 13 rebounds, including a key layup and three free throws in the final 40 seconds and Jon DeRock added 15 points.
