All-time Series:  St. Benedict leads 38-12 (CC won 4 of last 6 and 6 of last 10)

CARLETON HITS ROAD, FACES TOP SEED ST. BENEDICT IN SEMIFINALS

Carleton College travels to the College of St. Benedict for the MIAC Playoff semifinals, as the Knights and Blazers meet for the fourth time in the six-year history of the MIAC Playoffs. The Knights have won two of the three previous meetings and the only contest at Claire Lynch Hall, but the Blazers beat the Knights in last year’s title game, 77-74.

Both teams enter the semifinal showdown playing arguably their best basketball of the season. Carleton has won 12 of its last 14 games and St. Benedict has won its last eight games, matching a season high for consecutive wins. The Blazers’ 9-1 mark in the MIAC’s second half was the team’s best record, while the Knights’ 8-2 record over the last 10 games was second best, along with Concordia-Moorhead.

The semifinal pits second seed Concordia hosting third-seeded Gustavus. If St. Benedict wins it will host the other semifinal winner, but if Carleton wins the Knights will travel to either Moorhead or St. Peter.

LAST TIME OUT:  CARLETON 69, HAMLINE 62, FEB. 20, 2006

Hannah Oken-Berg poured in 21 points and grabbed seven rebounds and Megan Vig tallied 16 points and 10 rebounds and scored a key basket down the stretch as fourth-seeded Carleton held off fifth seed Hamline, 69-62, in the MIAC Playoff quarterfinals.

Anna Biewen tallied 10 points for Carleton, which moved to 8-1 at home in the MIAC Playoffs.

With the Knights clinging to a 64-62 lead and less than a minute remaining, Vig received the ball inside, shook off the double team and scored. Her offensive rebound on a missed free throw with 26 seconds left but sealed the win for Carleton, who won for the 11th time in 12 MIAC Playoff games.

Knight Notes ‘n Trends
• Carleton is making its sixth appearance in the MIAC Playoffs in the event’s sixth year of existence. The Knights are 11-11 all-time in the conference tournament, with titles in 2001, 2002, 2003 and 2004.
• This marks the first time the Knights will be seeded lower than third in the MIAC Playoffs. The Knights have been the conference tournament’s top seed twice (2003, 2005), the second seed twice (2001, 2004) and the third seed once (2002). No fourth seed has ever won the MIAC playoff title, although the third seed has won twice (Carleton in 2002, St. Benedict in 2005).
• The Knights are one of only three teams to make it to the MIAC Playoffs every time (Gustavus and St. Ben’s are the other two).
• Carleton had its string of holding its opponents to less than 40 percent shooting come to an end on Saturday, as Bethel hit on 44 percent of its shots. The Knights, prior to Saturday’s game, had held its last 12 opponents to less than 40 percent shooting. Four times over the last 13 games and six times overall the Knights have held their foes to less than 30 percent shooting from the field. Eighteen times in 26 games opponents have failed to shoot better than 40 percent against the Knights; Carleton is 15-3 in those games.
• The Blazers lead the all-time series with Carleton, 38-12, but the Knights have won four of the last six meetings and six of the last 10. The two teams split the season series, with each team successfully defending its home floor. The Blazers have won three of the last four meetings: at Claire Lynch Hall.
• Carleton last traveled to Claire Lynch Hall for the MIAC Playoffs on Feb. 23, 2002, grabbing a commanding 79-63 win to win the conference playoff title. No current Knights’ player was a member of that team, although current assistant coach Abby Kalland ’04 was a sophomore that season. That game also marks the last time the Knights played on the road in the MIAC Playoffs, as they had played seven straight games at home in the MIAC Playoffs.
• Carleton scored 70 or more points for the fifth time this season by tallying a season-high 88 points against Bethel on Feb. 18. The Knights are 5-0 when scoring 70 or more points.
• Carleton is 9-2 at home this season and 69-8 over the last six seasons in West Gym. In the MIAC Playoffs, the Knights are 8-1 all-time on their home floor and have never lost a quaterfinal or semifinal contest at West Gym. The Knights are 10-2 all-time in the postseason at West Gym but: only 3-3 on the road. All three losses have come in the NCAA Tournament, as Carleton is 3-0 in MIAC Playoff road games.
• Carleton is but 4.9 seconds away from allowing 60 or more points in a game, but all four of the wins have come in the MIAC’s second half of the MIAC Playoffs against Hamline (Feb. 20 and Jan. 16), Concordia (Feb. 4) and Bethel (Feb. 18).
• The Knights are only 4-5 this season when trailing at the half, but three of those four wins have come in the last month. The Knights trailed St. Thomas by one at the half (W 57-55), Hamline by three (W 72-65) and Gustavus by 14 (W 75-57).
• Carleton overcame a 14 point halftime deficit for the second time in the last three years against Gustavus. In the 2004 MIAC Playoff semifinals, Carleton trailed Gustavus 39-25 at the half but rallied for a 55-52 victory. In that game the Knights held Gustavus to 13 second-half points; in its Feb. 1 win Carleton allowed only 18 second-half points to the Gusties.
• Carleton blocked a conference season-high 10 shots against Augsburg on Jan. 30 and had nine on Jan. 21 against St. Thomas. The MIAC record for most blocked shots in a single game is 13. Carleton’s 4.9 blocks per game is on pace to shatter the team record of 3.3 blocks per game, set in 2001-02.
• Carleton allowed 80 points in its Jan. 28 loss to St. Benedict, marking the first time in 110 MIAC contests a Carleton opponent has scored 80 or more points in a regulation contest. St. Thomas beat the Knights, 80-62, on Jan. 17, 2001, prompting a 10-game win streak for the Knights. That season ended with Carleton upstaging the Tommies in the MIAC Playoff title game and earning the school’s first NCAA Tournament bid.
• Carleton notched its 500th program win with its Jan. 16 victory at St. Mary’s.
• The Knights allowed only 53.6 points per game during their five-game winning streak and are allowing only 56.9 points per game over the last 4 games.
• Carleton ended the season ranked first in the MIAC in field-goal percentage (44.6%) and first in field-goal percentage defense (36.7%).
• The Knights are featuring four new starters this season, with last year’s MIAC sixth person of the year, Kari Christianson sliding into the starting lineup with senior Andrea Korb. Rookie Hannah Oken-Berg has started all 24 games with Megan Vig while Emily Strandmark (6), Sarah Kuhnels (1), Andrea Dahl (1), Sarah Lincoln (4) and Anna Bielen (5) have also started.
• Carleton is using its fifth different starting line-up of the season with the insertion of rookie Anna Bielen into the starting line-up.
• Carleton has failed in its attempt to become the first MIAC team to win four consecutive MIAC regular-season titles. St. Thomas won three straight from 1995-98, St. Benedict won three straight from 2001-04 (sharing a title with Carleton in 2002-03 and 2003-04), but neither squad was able to win four straight MIAC titles.

Scouting St. Benedict

The Blazers, after dropping consecutive games to Concordia and Gustavus midway through the conference slate, reeled off nine consecutive victories to seal the outright MIAC regular-season title.

The Blazers use a tried-and-true formula for beating the opposition. They shoot the three-pointer extremely well (93%), don’t turn the ball over (+5.0 TO margin) and get busy on the glass (+3.8 rebound margin). Plus, they’ve nearly made more free throws (403) than their opponents have attempted (404).

St. Benedict is led by one of the MIAC’s premier players in senior Anna Heikenen. She’s averaging 18.3 points and 6.8 rebounds per game and shooting 49 percent from the field. In the two Carleton games, though, she’s a combined 12-28 but has averaged 20.5 points per game. Junior guard Darby Noreen is second on the team in scoring at 12.1 points per game and has career highs of 17 and 18 points in two games. The second meeting proved to be the difference. Junior point guard Katie Kempe has averaged 10.9 points and 2.6 assists per game and has been in double figures both games against Carleton.

The difference in the first game (Carleton win) and the second was the free throw line. The Blazers were a horrid 12-30 in the first game, but 32-43 in the second.

Last Time Out: St. Benedict 80, Carleton 65

Hannah Oken-Berg and Karl Christenson scored 14 points each, but visiting Carleton College couldn’t overcome a Blazer parade to the free-throw line in falling to St. Benedict, 80-55.

St. Benedict shot 39 free throws, 20 more than visiting Carleton, as the Blazers outscored Carleton 48-33 in the second half to edge the Knights’ five-game winning streak. The host Blazers were 26-38 from the free-throw line, including 25-25 in the second half alone. In contrast, Carleton was 15-20 in the game, 9-12 in the second half.

Anna Biewen was also in double figures with 11 for Carleton, which lost for the third time in its last four trips to Claire Lynch Hall.

Megan Vig was held to nine points, but did reach 1,500 points for her career in 190th career game. She added seven rebounds. Annie Isler added nine points, six assists and four rebounds for Carleton.

Darby Noreen led all players with 23 points and grabbed nine rebounds, going 9-12 from three-point range and 9-10 from the line. Anna Heikenen, the MIAC’s second leading scorer at nearly 19 points per game, was 3-8-11 from the field but 11-12 from the charity stripe in scoring 17 points and grabbing five rebounds. Katie Kempe added 14 points and five rebounds and Ariel Tauer came off the bench for 13 points and five rebounds.

Carleton–St. Benedict Recent Meetings Recaps

Carleton and St. Benedict shared the MIAC title in 2002-03 and 2003-04 and are tied for first and second in MIAC regular-season wins over the last six seasons (Carleton 107-20, CSB 108-18). They’ve met three times in the MIAC Playoffs as well. Below is a short recap of the past 14 meetings, starting with the 2000-01 season. This marks only the third time in the last 13 meetings that neither team is nationally ranked. [Note: All rankings are D3hoops.com unless noted with “CP”, meaning the WBCA coaches’ poll.]

Nov. 29, 2000, at St. Benedict 70, Carleton 62
Renée Willette scores 19 points and grabs 10 rebounds, but the Blazers exact revenge for Carleton’s upset at Claire Lynch Hall the previous season.

Feb. 5, 2001, at Carleton 69, No. 9 St. Benedict 64
Carleton erased a 10-point deficit in the final two minutes, overcoming the Blazers at West Gym. Renée Willette paced Carleton with 16 points and Bridget Seegers added 10 points and 10 rebounds. Mia Peterson paced the Blazers with 16 points and six boards.

Feb. 21, 2001, MIAC Playoff Semifinals, at No. 23 Carleton 85, No. 16 St. Benedict 75 OT
Bridget Seegers poured in 32 points and grabbed 12 rebounds as Carleton outscored St. Benedict 12-2 in the overtime. Dann Hannon scored 26 points for the Blazers and Michelle Barlau added 13 points and 11 rebounds.

Nov. 28, 2001, at No. 7 St. Benedict 78, Carleton 62
Kim Johnson tallied 26 points as the Blazers raced past the Knights. Renée Willette led Carleton with 20 points.

Danni Hannon scored 26 points and the Blazers used a 9-0 run midway through the second half to defeat host Carleton and force a three-way tie at the top of the MIAC standings with Carleton, St. Benedict and St. Thomas. Karissa Kramer led the Knights with 20 points and Cara Jones added 13 points and 11 rebounds.

Beth Freeman scored a then-career-high 14 points and the Knights outshot the host Blazers 45-28 in the second half to win their second consecutive MIAC playoff title. Karissa Kramer led the Knights with 16 points while Michelle Barlau tallied 16 points and Dann Hannon added 14.

Jan. 18, 2002, at No. 9 Carleton 76, No. 2 St. Benedict 75
In the first top-10 matchup between the schools, rookie Megan Vig scored 21 points and grabbed eight rebounds as the Knights erased a 16-point, first-half deficit to outlast the Blazers. Linnea Engel added 15 points on 5-of-6 shooting from the field and free throw line and added eight rebounds for Carleton. Dann Hannon paced St. Benedict with 19 points and Michelle Barlau tallied 16 points. It marked the first time that St. Benedict has dropped two consecutive MIAC games in the 17-year tenure of head coach Mike Durbin, with both losses coming by one point.

Feb. 9, 2003, at No. 6 St. Benedict 77, No. 5 Carleton 65
Michelle Barlau scored 33 points, carrying the load when Danni Hannon left the game in the first half with a hand injury, as the Blazers’ ended Carleton’s 23-game winning streak. Karen Frisco scored 17 and Cara Jones 16 for the Knights.

Jan. 17, 2004, at No. 19 Carleton 79, at No. 15 St. Benedict 73
Beth Freeman scored 16 points and Megan Vig added 14 points, but Carleton had its 17-game win streak snapped by St. Benedict. The Blazers were paced by Kim Johnson’s 16 points while Anna Heiken added 12. Katie Kempe came off the bench to score 10 points, including a key three-pointer with 1:27 left.

Feb. 18, 2003, at No. 11 Carleton 79, No. 13 St. Benedict 73
Beth Freeman scored a career-high 30 points and Katie Freeman tallied a career-high 20 points, canning a quartet of three-pointers, and Carleton beat St. Benedict to claim a share of the MIAC title. Anna Heiken led the Blazers with 22 points while Kim Johnson added 14 points, all in the second half, and grabbed 11 rebounds.

Dec. 6, 2004, No. 20 (CP) Carleton 71, at No. 19 St. Benedict 56
Beth Freeman scored 17 points and Katie Freeman added 10 points, six rebounds and six assists as Carleton closed the game on a 19-8 run to defeat St. Benedict. The Knights outscored the Blazers 40-24 in the final 20 minutes. Anna Heiken paced St. Benedict with 17 points and nine rebounds. It marked Carleton’s first win at Claire Lynch Hall since the 2002 MIAC Playoffs title game.

Jan. 29, 2005, at No. 19 Carleton 84, at No. 14 St. Benedict 57
Megan Vig scored 27 points and added 10 rebounds as Carleton shot 59 percent from the field is dismantling St. Benedict. The Knights posted their biggest win ever over the Blazers. Anna Heiken led St. Benedict with 12 points, as the Blazers shot only 30 percent.

Jan. 29, 2005, St. Benedict 77, at Carleton 74 - MIAC Playoff Finals
Megan Vig poured in a game-high 29 points, matching her career high, but the College of St. Benedict withstood a furious Carleton rally in the final minute to beat the Knights, 77-74, in the MIAC Playoff championship game. The Knights, trailing by nine with 59 seconds left, scored 10 points in a span of 39 seconds, but the Blazers made 3-of-4 free throws in the final 20 seconds to hold off the Knights. The loss ended Carleton’s run of four consecutive MIAC Playoff titles, as Carleton had been the only school to win the conference post-season event since its inception in 2000-01. Kim Johnson scored 19 points and Anna Heikken added 14 points and 11 rebounds for the Blazers, who also received 16 points on perfect 4-of-4 three-pointers from Darby Noreen. The win pushed the Blazers into the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 2002 and ended Carleton’s four-year run as NCAA Tourney participants.

Dec. 5, 2005, Carleton 58, at No. 19 St. Benedict 57
Megan Vig scored 15 points, but it was her pass to rookie Sarah Lincoln with 15 seconds left that proved to be the final margin in Carleton’s upset of MIAC pre-season favorites. Anna Heiken led all players with 24 points and nine rebounds and Darby Noreen and Katie Kempe added 10 each for the Blazers. The Blazers had a final possession with 11 seconds left, but failed to get a clean look at the hoop. Hannah Oken-Berg added 15 points and eight rebounds and Annie Isler had 11.

Jan. 26, 2006, St. Benedict 80, Carleton 65
Darby Noreen scored 23 points, canning 4-of-6 from three-point range, as Carleton gives up 80 points in a MIAC regular-season game for the first time in more than four seasons. Anna Heikken adds 17 points and goes 11-for-12 from the free-throw line as the Blazers make 32-of-43 free throws. Kari Christianson and Hannah Oken-Berg pace Carleton with 14 points each.
