ROAD STRETCH COULD DETERMINE DIRECTION OF SEASON FOR KNIGHTS.
Carleton, losers of its last four contests and of three straight MIAC contests, looks to reverse its recent losing trend by hitting the road for three straight games.

The road string begins on Wednesday, Jan. 11 at the College of St. Catherine and continues with a rivalry game at St. Olaf on Saturday, Jan. 14 and ends at St. Mary’s University on Monday, Jan. 16. The Knights’ offense looks to get on track after failing to break the 60-point barrier in the last four games.

LAST TIME OUT: CONCORDIA 65, CARLETON 53, JAN. 4, 2006
Hannah Oken-Berg scored 15 points, grabbed seven rebounds and blocked a school-record eight shots, but the Knights fell to Concordia-Moorhead, 65-53.
Jessica Heintz scored 20 points and Anne Keeley added 17 points for the Cobbers, who made nine first-half 3-pointers. The Cobbers cannot six consecutive 3-pointers at one point, as all nine of Concordia’s first-half field goals were from beyond the arc.

Megan Vig added 14 points and seven rebounds for the Knights. The Knights grabbed the early nine-point lead by making five of their first eight shots, but they made only five of their next 16 in trailing, 30-23, at the half. The Knights pulled with three with 8 minutes, 35 seconds left, but the Cobbers used a 10-3 spurt over a five-minute stretch to seal the victory. Carleton struggled mightily during the string, going 1-for-9 from the floor.

Knight Notes ’n Trends
- The Knights have struggled offensively during their four-game losing streak, failing to break 60 points in each of the four losses and allowing their foes to shoot a combined 49.2 percent from the floor.
- Carleton’s opponents have hit 22 three-pointers over the last two games, making 47.8 percent of their attempts.
- Carleton’s backcourt managed only seven points in the Jan. 4 loss to Concordia.

The Knights have lost four straight games for only the second time under head coach Tammy Metcalf-Filzen. The last time the Knights suffered through a four-game losing skid was Metcalf-Filzen’s first season, 1997-98, when she served as interim head coach. That season the Knights suffered four- and three-game losing streaks, all to MIAC foes, en route to a 11-14 mark overall, 9-13 in MIAC play. It marked the only losing season under Metcalf-Filzen, although the overall and conference win totals were the most since the 1989-90 season at the time.

Carleton knocked down a season-high seven 3-pointers in the New Year’s Eve loss to Bemidji State.
- Megan Vig and Hannah Oken-Berg have combined for 20 of Carleton’s 29 double figure scoring efforts. No other player has scored in double figures more than two times this season.

Carleton’s 5.4 blocks per game is on pace to shatter the team record of 3.3 blocks per game, set in 2003-04.

The Knights are featuring four new starters this season, with last year’s MIAC sixth person of the year, Kari Christianson sliding into the starting lineup with senior Andrea Korb.

While Carleton’s 56.9 free-throw percentage has undoubtedly hurt the Knights, its foes are shooting 54.6 percent from the line.

Carleton held Hamline to 14 field goals and 25 percent shooting in its Dec. 3 win. Carleton has held 14 of its last 36 opponents to less than 20 field goals.

Carleton’s 5.00 blocked shots per game leads the MIAC in terms of overall statistical rankings.

First-year players Hannah Oken-Berg and Sarah Lincoln are the first Knights to start in their collegiate debut since Renée Willette ’02 in the 1998-99 season.

Carleton is attempting to become the first MIAC team to win four consecutive MIAC regular-season titles. St. Thomas won three straight from 1995-98, St. Benedict took three straight from 2001-04 (sharing a title with Carleton in 2002-03 and 2003-04), but neither squad was able to win four straight MIAC titles.

Probable Carleton Starter/Key Reserve Notes (updated Jan. 10, 2006)

#20 Andrea Korb, Sr., G, 5-5, Tonganoxie, Kan. (Tonganoxie HS): First season as starter at point-guard slot... Tallied eight points, three rebounds and three assists in loss to Kenyon... #22 Anna Biewen, Fy., G, 5-10, Edina, Minn. (Edina HS); Scored career- and team-high 16 points in Dec. 7 win at Augsburg, but has struggled since averaging 2.8 ppg during four-game losing streak... Grabbed career-high eight rebounds in win over Hamline while adding six points... Hit two key free throws late in win over North Park... Two-all conference honorable mention pick... Father, Paul Biewen, coached Gustavus women to 15-6 record in 1980-81... Granddaughter of former Gustavus men's basketball star and former head coach Bob Erdman, who played at Gustavus for Carleton graduate Gus Young.

#25 Emily Strandmark, So., G, 5-8, Madison, Ind. (Madison Consolidated HS); Made first career start in Dec. 3 win over Hamline, knocking down lone 3-point attempt... Started six games this season... Ranks third on team with six 3-pointers... Scored five points in win over North Park... Appeared in 15 games last season... Two-all-sectional pick in high schools... School record-holder in assists in both basketball and soccer... Parents are both Carleton alums: Nancy (Boyer) '73 and Steven Strandmark '72.

#50 Sarah Kuenius, Fy., F, 5-11, Eagan, Minn. (Eagan HS); Ratted career-high 13 points, going 3-for-4 from three-point range, in win over Hamline... Tallied nine points against Macalester... Tied for team lead with 11 3-pointers made through 11 games... 2004-05 Eagan HS female athlete of the year... Three-all-conference pick in basketball... All-time scoring leader in basketball at Eagan HS, was 2005 all-state honorable mention pick... Helped Eagan HS to 2003 Minnesota large-school volleyball state title, earning all-
Scouting St. Catherine

The Wildcats have been hanging around the bubble in terms of qualifying for the MIAC Playoffs the past few years, and with the return of 2004 All-MIAC post Jenna Martin after missing all of last year with a knee injury, starters Rachel Berglund and Sarah Schneider back and Hamline transfers Ashley Busch and Erin Petrich in the fold, the Wildcats figure to be in the thick of the playoff hunt again.

The Wildcats haven’t won back-to-back games yet this season but haven’t lost more than two in a row, either. Schneider (14.3 ppg) and Berglund (13.8 ppg) pace the team in scoring, with Martin and Petrich nearly in double figures as each score 9.8 points per game. Martin (9.0 rpg) and Schneider (7.5 rpg) lead the team in rebounding.

The Wildcats weakness is simple — shooting. They connect on only 37.6 percent of their shots, third-worst in the MIAC. They offset this by getting to the line more than any other team in the conference and making better than 70 percent of those attempts, making them the third-highest scoring team in the league at 68.6 points per game.

Last Time Out: St. Olaf 62, St. Catherine 60

Megan Vig poured in 23 points and grabbed 10 rebounds, but host St. Olaf College used a 13-14 spurt over a five-minute stretch book-ending halftime and held off the 23rd-ranked Carleton.

St. Olaf was paced by Kristy Larson’s career-high 23 points, including a jumper in the lane with 21 seconds remaining to prove to be the difference. The win snapped a 10-game losing streak to the Knights for the Oles and left them in contention for the fifth and final MIAC Playoff berth.

Carleton shot 49 percent from the field and outrebounded the Oles 37-30. It marked the first time all season in which the Knights have lost when shooting at least 40 percent from the floor. The Knights committed 17 turnovers to St. Olaf’s 10 and made only 9 of 15 from the free-throw line.

Beth Freeman ’05 iced it with 11 points before fouling out and twin sister Katie Freeman ’05 added eight points, seven rebounds, six assists and three blocked shots.

Scouting St. Olaf

The Oles, after barely missing out on the 2005 MIAC Playoffs last season, returned third starters and 10 letterwinners and seemed primed for its second MIAC Playoff bid since the post-season event started five years ago.

The Oles, though, have started slow, winning only one of their first six MIAC contests and are 3-7 overall. A postseason bid means the Oles likely need to win eight or nine of their final 12 games.

Sophomore forward Kristina Stoeirmann paces the Oles in scoring at 11.6 points per game despite averaging only 20 minutes a game. She shoots 60.5 percent from the field, third best in the MIAC. Junior Christina Sampson is second in scoring at 10.8 points per game and leads the club in rebounding at 5.7 caroms a game.

Senior guard Christine Schwichtenberg is third on the team at 10.3 points per game. She and Sampson are deadly three-point shooters, as Sampson makes 48.9 percent from beyond the arc to Schwichtenberg’s 54.5 percent.

Offense hasn’t been the Oles’ problem. They allow 75.0 points per game, second-worst in the league.
