Peer Leaders at Carleton College

Carleton College employs hundreds of students in a variety of leadership roles. These student leaders are vital in providing important programs and services to the campus community. With the talent, energy and spirit of Carleton’s student leaders, the College stands well-poised to provide a true liberal arts education that challenges students to “learn broadly and think deeply.”

Guided by the core values of social justice and inclusivity, the Peer Leader training program provides a collaborative campus-wide hub to prepare students to lead by giving them the tools, resources, connections, and skills they need in order to serve the Carleton community.
New Student Week (NSW)

The purpose of New Student Week is to provide incoming students with experiences and information that prepare them to thrive both academically and socially in their first year at Carleton and beyond. We accomplish this through activities and interactions designed to introduce new students and their families to the values of the institution, as they are embodied in, and enacted by, the people, programs and lived experience of our campus. Our hope is that by the end of the orientation period, students have begun to situate themselves in this rich environment with a clearer sense of how their own talents and abilities can flourish and grow.

Specifically, new students should feel that they have one or more reliable sources of information for academic issues and institutional policies and regulations. They should have an awareness of the support structures on campus for social, emotional, and physical health and well-being. They should begin to gain a first-hand understanding of the rewards and challenges of living and working within a diverse community and begin the process of making social connections within such a community. While students may not get all of their questions answered or anxieties addressed, we hope that they enter their first term confident that they can find the help and resources they need to succeed.

New Student Week Leaders

New Student Week Leaders assist with various aspects of New Student Week, such as leading small group discussions, providing campus tours, and serving as a positive role model for new students as they transition to life at Carleton. These energetic and resourceful student leaders work collaboratively in welcoming the incoming class and ensuring that the New Student Week experience is exciting and beneficial for all participants. In addition to providing an invaluable service to the incoming class, NSW Leaders further develop their leadership skills and become more aware of the many involvement opportunities and resources available to Carleton students.

Note: This is a volunteer position that requires a 10-day commitment (September 1 - 11, 2016). On-campus housing and meals are provided for those living on-campus fall term. For students living off-campus, a temporary meal plan will be provided during training and NSW.
