As a Blue Engine Teaching Assistant (BETA), you will join a team of 3-4 BETAs in a year of shared AmeriCorps service at a New York City public high school. Alongside a lead teacher, your team will support roughly 100 students in a literacy or math classroom.

Our unique instructional program is rooted in the power of individual relationships made possible by reduced student-to-teacher ratios. The result? Students are prepared not only to get into college, but also to thrive once they set foot on campus, while future leaders are prepared for a career in the classroom, education reform, or the social sector.

NYC HIGH SCHOOLS: Work with a team of BETAs & a lead teacher in a NYC high school classroom.
INCREDBLE PEOPLE: Learn & grow in a close-knit community of educators & change agents.
FINANCIAL BENEFITS: Receive AmeriCorps stipend and education award along with other financial benefits.
LEADERSHIP TRAINING: Develop as a manager & lead other BETAs during an optional second year.
CERTIFICATION: Earn teacher certification during year 2 through grad school partnership! (optional)
INNOVATION: Help reshape the American classroom to prepare more students for college success.

Blue Engine

Blue Engine partners with public high schools serving low-income communities to prepare dramatically greater numbers of students for postsecondary success. At its core, Blue Engine recruits, trains, and supports Blue Engine Teaching Assistants – talented recent college graduates who provide individualized instruction and reduce student-to-instructor ratios to help students build the academic skills and mindsets required to succeed in college-level coursework. In 2012-2013, Blue Engine increased college readiness on New York state exit exams by 61%. Recognized by President Obama and the New York Times as a high-impact education service model, Blue Engine's 69 teaching assistants are currently supporting over 1,300 students across six public high schools in New York City.
