The Lipton Family Fund for Career Exploration is intended to support externships and other career exploration opportunities for students with financial need, in hope to prepare students to lead thoughtful, caring, and service oriented lives. Students are encouraged to discover post-graduation opportunities, through this fund, in the Washington, D.C. metropolitan area when possible.

PROFILES OF RECIPIENTS AND HOST ORGANIZATIONS

Sana Rafiq ’13, Economics/Political Science
Hometown: Lahore, Pakistan
Sana worked with the New Economy Working Group at the Institute for Policy Studies (IPS) in Washington, DC. The working group aims to catalyze a socioeconomic transition to a new economy to make it more locally rooted, just, and geared towards everyone’s wellbeing. Sana’s worked with varied stakeholders to help craft the narrative for a new economy through general brainstorming, mapping information, making documentaries, and writing editorials.

Molly Rappaport ’12, French and Francophone Studies/Political Science-IR
Hometown: Ridgewood, NJ
As a policy intern at the Truman National Security Project, Molly worked on issues of national security and development. She researched and developed curriculum for Truman Project programs, researched national security related legislative issues, worked on strategic planning and management consulting and coordinate security, defense and media

The Richard T. Newman Family Fund for Language Study Internships Abroad is intended to support and encourage Carleton students to pursue internships in foreign countries that can lead to career opportunities in the field of foreign languages. The primary language used in the internship shall be one of the languages offered at Carleton: Arabic, Chinese, French, German, Greek, Hebrew, Japanese, Latin, Russian and Spanish.

PROFILES OF RECIPIENTS AND HOST ORGANIZATIONS

Tyler Gebauer ’14, Classical Studies
Hometown: Cologne, MN
Tyler worked with Sustainable Bolivia, a sister organization called CEDESOL, which builds solar ovens and educates communities in rural Bolivia about green alternatives. He did administrative work, conducting surveys in the countryside, and constructing ovens on site. He also stayed with a Bolivian host family in the city of Cochabamba, where Sustainable Bolivia is located.