4.10.13: ACADEMIA’S JUDGEMENT DAY
FOUR PROFESSORS ONE DEBATE ALL THE GLORY

Come cheer on Tim Raylor as he argues that studying literature is the most essential academic practice. It will provide you with some good answers for the next time Uncle Bill questions the merits of your English major.

WILDERNESS 2.0 ESSAY CONTEST

What does wilderness mean to the millennial generation?

Is there still a case to be made for wilderness? If so, how can we make that case?

ORGANIZERS:
Kim Smith, Matt Kirby ’07

quote of the week

“Can you wonder then, when, as was bound to happen sooner or later, your charms, because they no longer amuse you, have cracked and your spirits, because you are tired of giving orders, have ceased to obey, and you are left alone with me, the dark thing you could never abide with...”

STUDENTS! Call in to ext. 4322 with the author and work these last lines come from. The first person to correctly name the quotation with a faculty signature.
