1. Tell us a little bit about your comps. My comps is the composition of a play, which will be put up 8th weekend in Little Nourse if anyone wants to see it. (Shameless plug) It’s about love. And plays.

2. If you had to pick one place in the world to write your great play, where would you write it and what type of work would it be? If I could write my play anywhere, I would write it inside my mother’s mind. I just feel like I would get super good creative energy. Not sure why. Just a whim.

3. Tell us something that most of the other English majors don’t know about you. I’ve never taken a class from Pierre Hecker.

5. Six words describing your experience as a Carleton English major: yeah, eh, no, okay, maybe, alright.
STUDENTS, call in to ext. 4322 with the author and the name of the work; the first person to name the quotation correctly will win a “beautifully wrapped” Pepperidge Farm cookie package and a hand-made card from Carolyn with a special faculty signature! Congratulations to Isabel Gregersen and runner-up Annette Martin, who correctly named the quote from Harper Lee’s To Kill A Mockingbird. Way to go!

Quote of the Week

“Villains!” I shrieked, “dissemble no more! I admit the deed! --tear up the planks! here, here! --It is the beating of his hideous heart!”

Bruce Norris's 2011 Pulitzer Prize-winning play Clybourne Park retains a character from which 1950s American classic?
