Victor Pinkham left his beautiful oak roll-top desk to the History department at the end of 1962. This is known from a document by Department Chair Carlton Qualey, who included a line about it in the June 1962 History Department Annual Report to President John W. Nason, "Mr. Pinkham's gift of his rolltop desk solves the problem of staff desks for next year, but we will need office equipment for new offices when they are available." The desk was passed to Robert Bonner, and from Bob to Carl Weiner. After Carl retired, it was used as lobby decor for several years, where it nicely mirrored the Dürer etching enlargement of St. Jerome, and has been used by Bill North in Leighton 203A for the last couple of years (2008).

Leighton Secretaries, 1967-1975:

Mrs. Teresa (Terry) Basquin supported the History Department and was also Secretary to the Chairman of the Asian Studies Program Prof. John C. Perry from 1967-1975.

Mrs. Betty J. Kendall, served as Secretary to the Chairmen of the Departments of History and Modern Languages, in 1968-69.

Evelyn Erickson June 1969-November of 1971, never worked in Scoville Hall, (stated in 1968-69 catalog) but was always in Leighton Hall as secretary to Chemistry and Geology first, then Geology and Modern Languages (she had background knowledge of French & German). When Wendy Zimmerman was hired full-time in Chemistry in 1969 (she continues to support the Chemistry department, 2008), Evelyn was also full-time and had a desk in the same office as Betty Kendall and Terry Basquin, who were both part-time and shared the other desk in the office. Wendy's office was upstairs where the Leighton 330 classroom is now, in 2008.

Betty and Terry were part-time and shared the desk next to Evelyn's in what is now Leighton 218.
