2013 Edward M. "Ted" Mullin Prize Recipients Announced

Congratulations to Marina Herrera-Heintz and Jonathan Kagan-Kans, the 2013 recipients of the Mullin Prize. Here is a look at their exciting projects! Please visit: <https://apps.carleton.edu/curricular/history/mullin/>

Marina Herrera-Heintz. Working title: "The Abdication of King Edward VIII and Its Effects on the British Monarchy." Marina will travel to London for ten or twelve days to review the Abdication Files located at the National Archives. She will review the minutes and reports of the Prime Minister's meetings, examine telegrams exchanged between Britain and other nations within its dominions, the King's Protector's files, and the files of the Metropolitan police, which contain reports on the pair from Special Branch. She will also explore the richness of resources available at the National Archives to show how, when monarchies were crumbling throughout Europe, the British Monarchy was able not only to survive, but also to flourish.

Jonathan Kagan-Kans. Working title: "The Einsatzgruppen (mobile Nazi death squads) in the Holocaust." Jonathan will spend a month in Berlin at the Berlin Bundesarchiv and the Staatsbibliothek. He plans to apply methods of cultural history and the history of everyday life to the letters, diaries, and army publications of Nazi SS-personnel in order to understand the mentality of soldiers in the Einsatzgruppen. Jonathan's intensive research will provide great insight into the minds of the most notorious soldiers of the Nazi Regime.

Paid internship opportunity from an Alum!

I am hoping you will share this paid internship opportunity for history students graduating this year with an interest in Public History. When I graduated in 2010, I took this internship at the John F. Kennedy National Historic Site, which through a few other twists and turns, led me to my current position of Lead Park Ranger at the site. This internship was integral in preparing me for my current position as well as for work I did in California for the National Park Service in between. I'm happy to talk about my experiences with any students interested in the internship or National Parks!

A bit more about the position:

This internship is through the Student Conservation Association, which is dedicated to offering young people opportunities for paid internships in conservation, history and research. During a 9 month internship, the successful applicant will research the Kennedy family, create and present an original tour of the John F. Kennedy National Historic Site, write informational material for the site and plan our major fall Halloween event, which attracts over 1000 people each year. You will also have opportunities to do research and/or work on education programming, based on their interests and background.

In addition, the intern will be an integral part of planning a conference for teachers and librarians held in partnership with the John F. Kennedy Presidential Library every April. The internship is a fantastic way to get a taste of what Public History work in the field is like! Anyone interested in applying should fill out the application here:

All the best,

Sara Patton,

ALUMNI KUDOS!

Congratulations from all of us in the Carleton History Department to Emmamarie Haas, '12! She has now accepted her offer from the University of Michigan - Ann Arbor, to begin pursuing a fully funded PhD in history, starting in September 2013. Good luck with your studies, Emmamarie!

NEW MULTI-FIELD HISTORY 395 IN THE FALL COUNTS TOWARDS THE HISTORY FIELD YOU CHOOSE!

Next Fall History 395: Controversial Histories: Conflict, Polemic and Persuasion in Historical Perspective

William North 6 credits, WR2, HI

Open to majors in all fields of history, this course explores the dynamics and unfolding of conflict and consensus-building in the sphere of ideas, policies, and individual/group collaboration. In dialogue with a series of interdisciplinary readings designed to frame questions and outline interpretive models that might then feed into individual research projects as well as a small selection of case studies from different historical periods and cultures, students will develop research topics in their respective fields of interest with the goal of developing a finished 25-page research essay using both primary and secondary scholarship. Students will also offer an oral presentation on their projects. On-going peer support, collaboration, & critique will be an essential part of the research process. In the past students have pursued projects on topics ranging from classical Rome to modern Europe and the Middle East, U.S. Educational policy to the place of "conscience" in English Catholic writing in the 16th century.

Questions? Please feel free to contact Bill North, wnorth@carleton.edu

INTERVIEW WITH A SENIOR: RACHEL FEINBERG

What was your comps about?

My comps was about the establishment of old folks’ homes for African-Americans during the Progressive Era.

Are you an “old folk?”

No, but, perhaps, I am at heart.

Favorite history class at Carleton?

I’ve liked a lot, but the experience of travelling to Ghana for History and Memory of the Atlantic world was unparalleled.

How many books did you have checked out of the Libe for your comps? How do you respond to people who have never checked out a book?

Probably about 30 and “what the hell?”

Rachel and her friend’s shoulder.

Still haven’t “liked” us on Facebook? Our Facebook Page is constantly updated as the go-to source for information between newsletters, including pictures, job postings, its all there! <http://www.facebook.com/CarletonHistoryDept>
