Carleton Linguistics in Kyoto

2018

Thanks to Brittany Johnson, member of the 2016 program, for preparing this slide show!
Japan in 1 minute and 3 seconds*

*your experience may vary
What can Linguistics in Kyoto offer me? (we’ll go over these items in a bit more detail)

• Studies with an experienced and insightful team of professors
• Friendships with Doshisha University peers who will help you feel welcome and guide you through any problems – so you can do the same for them when they visit Carleton!
• Planned group excursions that bring you to fantastic places
• An opportunity to grow and foster your own independence
• Cultural excursions and lectures that enrich your understanding of Japan in a meaningful way, usually presented by amazing guest lecturers
Course of Study:
18 credits

Ling 285: The Linguistics of the Japanese Writing System
  Michael Flynn
Ling 286: The Structure of Japanese
  Doshisha faculty
Asst 284: History and Culture of Japan
  various guest lecturers
Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday
prerequisite: one linguistics class 山

mountain

‘san’
(Sino-Japanese reading)

山気
‘sanki’ mountain air

‘yama’
(Native Japanese reading)

山気
‘yamagi’ speculative spirit
The Carleton-Doshisha Relationship
The Doshisha Peers
Group Excursions
Cultural Excursions
Carleton College
2016
Hiroshima Field Trip

Wednesday, April 20
Seminar Room 2, 3rd Floor
Independence and Confidence
Before Japan:
• 14% less cool
• Had no idea how planes/travel/busses/subways worked
• Shy in unfamiliar places

After Japan:
• 87% cooler
• New sense of confidence
• Solo-travelled abroad on self-made plans for an internship Apply!

- Information Session #2: Thursday, January 12th, 2017
- Application Deadline: Monday, April 17th, 2017
- Summer 2017: Ensure you have passport/physical
- OCS Agreement Deadline: Thursday, September 14th, 2017