Winter Events
William O. Beeman, Chair of the Anthropology Dept. at the University of Minnesota with present a lunch time talk. He will be discussing graduate programs and careers in Anthropology. Specific date to be determined in January 2008.

Rosenberg Fund
Did you know that here is a limited amount of money available for Comps Research? If you are interested in applying for funds you must submit a proposal no later than the last day of classes Fall Term to Pamela Feldman-Savelsberg.

New Course
Eric Tranby will be teaching a new course titled, "Social Policy and Inequality", SoAn 264 during Winter Term. Eric will help you examine how social policies are related to systems of social stratification and inequality in both the United States and abroad. Check it out! (P. S. Eric is a Carleton grad.)
Wall of Ethics

Check out the "Wall of Ethics" on the bulletin board outside our offices. Let us know what you think about it!

Update on Comps

Note from the Chair —

I hope you have had an opportunity to get feedback from your comps advisors and that your thinking and research for your comps is progressing nicely. The second drafts of your comps proposals are due TO YOUR COMPS ADVISOR on Friday November 2. This second draft should be more detailed that the first proposal, and should incorporate advice from your advisor as well as your own further thinking. A detailed guide to the proposal is found on our website, at the following URL:

Reminder:

Progress regarding Statistics: Don't forget to complete your prerequisites before signing up for courses offered in Spring term.

Guatemala Program

Professor Jay Levi will be taking a group of 13 Carleton students to Guatemala during Winter term 2008. The program is designed for students who are interested in the Mayan peoples of Guatemala and Chiapas, Mexico, the history and culture of the region, as well as social change and development in Latin America. We'll include an article on their trip in future EMIC's.
