Davis Peace Prize – Carleton College Selection

Project

Student Name and ID: _______________________________________________________________

Location

Proposer(s)_____________________ (class year) ______________________(class year)

1. Davis' purpose, as described on their FAQ, is as follows: "Intentionally, no clear definition is offered so as not to limit the imagination. We leave it up to the students to define what a “project for peace” might be. We hope to encourage creativity, innovation and entrepreneurship. The overall program is to be worldwide in scope and impact, but specific projects may be undertaken anywhere and as grassroots as desired, including in the U.S." To what extent does the project fit the Davis’ purpose?

2. How feasible in the project?

3. To what extent has the necessary ground work for the project been done?

4. To what extent is it clear what the applicant(s) - as opposed to the project - will be doing?

5. To what extent do you see the potential for ripple effects from the project, including results that will benefit participants, such as permanent infrastructure, an improved organization, greater knowledge, increased confidence, etc.?

6. To what extent is this project likely to be of benefit to others (rather than to the student(s) proposing it)?

7. To what extent does the proposal respond to a particular need of the community? Identified by the community?

Yes and no questions:

8. Does this project provide budget relief to a project or organization already underway? ______ Yes ______ No

9. Does the project rely on an external organization or body to be executed? ______ Yes ______ No

10. If the project is intended to help people, does the project present any danger to the people it proposes to serve? ______ Yes ______ No

11. Is this project someone else’s idea? ______ Yes ______ No

12. Is the project innovative? ______ Yes ______ No

Notes_________________________________________________________ TOTAL _________