In This Issue

Past webinars
In the section labeled “Carleton News,” you can find our past webinars, or a webinar that you might have missed, you can find them all on the Wonder.

Wondering where that email went missing in your inbox? If you’re ever looking for a newsletter to live an extraordinary and meaningful life after Carleton.

For some students, externships are made for testing the water. For others, the externship is an opportunity to build and cultivate professional relationships that will give Carls a competitive advantage.

To continue receiving our emails, add us to your address book.

Update on COVID-19 planning for winter term

On December 12, you and your students should have received information from President Poskanzer with important updates to the plan to open the term, including heightened safety measures in place.

Students and families were reminded about the importance of consistent mask-wearing and provided guidelines with specific use of mask-wearing.

Help us stock the Winter Wardrobe

The Winter Wardrobe was made possible by the generosity of the alumni community, local businesses, and individuals who provide students with gently used winter clothing and accessories.

If you are interested in continuing, you can find more information about the winter wardrobe and how you can help by clicking on the Winter Wardrobe link above.

If you have any questions, please contact the Student Activities Office at 507.222.4462.

In case you missed it: Winter Gathering Extravaganza

What could be a better way to enjoy a chilly December day than with a smorgasbord of activities! Carls showed us how to do it all! Current students also joined in to share their perspective on fall term.

In the rapidly evolving world of work, virtual and remote positions are becoming the standard, especially among highly-skilled workforce.

Though the pandemic made this fall term unusually unconventional, Carls met those challenges just as they did a century ago: with creativity, patience, and care for others. Check out the timeline of the 1918-20 flu epidemic in Northfield.

Career Center: Externships enable exploration

External experiences help provide students with opportunities to use academic knowledge to real-world situations, and have the opportunity to respond with innovative program delivery. We are adapting our core program to better serve the needs of our students.

We are adapting our core program to better serve the needs of our students.

In the rapidly evolving world of work, virtual and remote positions are becoming the standard, especially among highly-skilled workforce.

In the rapidly evolving world of work, virtual and remote positions are becoming the standard, especially among highly-skilled workforce.

Updates on COVID-19 and planning for winter term

On December 12, you and your students should have received information from President Poskanzer with important updates to the plan to open the term, including heightened safety measures in place.

Students and families were reminded about the importance of consistent mask-wearing and provided guidelines with specific use of mask-wearing.

If you are interested in continuing, you can find more information about the winter wardrobe and how you can help by clicking on the Winter Wardrobe link above.

If you have any questions, please contact the Student Activities Office at 507.222.4462.

Supporting first-generation students at Carlbons

Career Center is one of 77 colleges and universities nationwide to be recognized as a First-Gen Forward Institution. As a member of the 2020-21 First-Gen Forward Cohort, Carleton is committed to helping first-generation students to thrive.

Within the last edition of "Carleton News," you can find out more about the First-Gen Forward Program.

Learn more about Career Center’s programs for First-Generation Students.

Carleton is one of 77 colleges and universities nationwide to be recognized as a First-Gen Forward Institution. As a member of the 2020-21 First-Gen Forward Cohort, Carleton is committed to helping first-generation students to thrive.

Within the last edition of "Carleton News," you can find out more about the First-Gen Forward Program.

Learn more about Career Center’s programs for First-Generation Students.

Newsletter and online resources

Carleton in the News and alumni events.

In This Issue

Past webinars
In the section labeled “Carleton News,” you can find our past webinars, or a webinar that you might have missed, you can find them all on the Wonder.

Wondering where that email went missing in your inbox? If you’re ever looking for a newsletter to live an extraordinary and meaningful life after Carleton.

For some students, externships are made for testing the water. For others, the externship is an opportunity to build and cultivate professional relationships that will give Carls a competitive advantage.

To continue receiving our emails, add us to your address book.

Update on COVID-19 planning for winter term

On December 12, you and your students should have received information from President Poskanzer with important updates to the plan to open the term, including heightened safety measures in place.

Students and families were reminded about the importance of consistent mask-wearing and provided guidelines with specific use of mask-wearing.

If you are interested in continuing, you can find more information about the winter wardrobe and how you can help by clicking on the Winter Wardrobe link above.

If you have any questions, please contact the Student Activities Office at 507.222.4462.

Winter student program: a precious snapshot in Northfield

Though the pandemic made this fall term unusually unconventional, Carls met those challenges just as they did a century ago: with creativity, patience, and care for others. Check out the timeline of the 1918-20 flu epidemic in Northfield.

Career Center: Externships enable exploration

External experiences help provide students with opportunities to use academic knowledge to real-world situations, and have the opportunity to respond with innovative program delivery. We are adapting our core program to better serve the needs of our students.

In the rapidly evolving world of work, virtual and remote positions are becoming the standard, especially among highly-skilled workforce.

In the rapidly evolving world of work, virtual and remote positions are becoming the standard, especially among highly-skilled workforce.

Updates on COVID-19 and planning for winter term

On December 12, you and your students should have received information from President Poskanzer with important updates to the plan to open the term, including heightened safety measures in place.

Students and families were reminded about the importance of consistent mask-wearing and provided guidelines with specific use of mask-wearing.

If you are interested in continuing, you can find more information about the winter wardrobe and how you can help by clicking on the Winter Wardrobe link above.

If you have any questions, please contact the Student Activities Office at 507.222.4462.

Supporting first-generation students at Carlbons

Career Center is one of 77 colleges and universities nationwide to be recognized as a First-Gen Forward Institution. As a member of the 2020-21 First-Gen Forward Cohort, Carleton is committed to helping first-generation students to thrive.

Within the last edition of "Carleton News," you can find out more about the First-Gen Forward Program.

Learn more about Career Center’s programs for First-Generation Students.