In This Issue

- Welcome back students!
- Opening Convocation Presentations and Story Alumnae
- COVID-19 updates and metrics
- Save the date for virtual Family Weekend - October 17
- USCIS deadlines

Welcome back students!

The new school year got underway as students and faculty returned to campus and classes began this week. During the opening week online program, starting September 30th, features several videos and live question-and-answer sessions.

Opening Convocation Presentations and Story Alumnae

Career Center staff and alumni spoke about their experiences in career exploration.

COVID-19 updates and metrics

Our COVID-19 Dashboard reports state-related data, local, and campus-related metrics for students, faculty, and staff. The dashboard has been updated with the most recent data.

Save the date for virtual Family Weekend - October 17

Informational sessions throughout the term to better acquaint you with different campus offices. Parents and families can watch sessions presented live each Friday at 12:30pm CT with recordings available afterward. Parents and families can request to receive our future emails using your preferences.

COVID-19 Action Levels

Chad Ellsworth, Program Director for Employer Relations, has been proven time after time that building relationships is the best strategy for job search success in tough times like we’re experiencing now. The Career Center’s employer relations team is focusing more than ever on fostering relationships this fall between employers and students in the coming weeks about how to best plan for a successful sophomore year.

For sophomores, fall term includes an opportunity to participate in Sophomorphosis, a two-week online program, starting September 30th, features several videos and live question-and-answer sessions.

Junior, senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact. All first-year students this year are being assigned a specific career coach within the Career Center. Sophomore, junior, and senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact.

Career Prep Week

Career Prep Week is an online program, starting September 30th, features several videos and live question-and-answer sessions.

Career exploration, will be communicating directly with sophomore students. Sophomore, junior, and senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact.

Junior, senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact. All first-year students this year are being assigned a specific career coach within the Career Center. Sophomore, junior, and senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact.

Career Prep Week is an online program, starting September 30th, features several videos and live question-and-answer sessions.

Career exploration, will be communicating directly with sophomore students. Sophomore, junior, and senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact.

Junior, senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact. All first-year students this year are being assigned a specific career coach within the Career Center. Sophomore, junior, and senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact.

Career Prep Week is an online program, starting September 30th, features several videos and live question-and-answer sessions.

Career exploration, will be communicating directly with sophomore students. Sophomore, junior, and senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact.

Junior, senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact. All first-year students this year are being assigned a specific career coach within the Career Center. Sophomore, junior, and senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact.

Career Prep Week is an online program, starting September 30th, features several videos and live question-and-answer sessions.

Career exploration, will be communicating directly with sophomore students. Sophomore, junior, and senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact.

Junior, senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact. All first-year students this year are being assigned a specific career coach within the Career Center. Sophomore, junior, and senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact.

Career Prep Week is an online program, starting September 30th, features several videos and live question-and-answer sessions.

Career exploration, will be communicating directly with sophomore students. Sophomore, junior, and senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact.

Junior, senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact. All first-year students this year are being assigned a specific career coach within the Career Center. Sophomore, junior, and senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact.

Career Prep Week is an online program, starting September 30th, features several videos and live question-and-answer sessions.

Career exploration, will be communicating directly with sophomore students. Sophomore, junior, and senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact.

Junior, senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact. All first-year students this year are being assigned a specific career coach within the Career Center. Sophomore, junior, and senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact.

Career Prep Week is an online program, starting September 30th, features several videos and live question-and-answer sessions.

Career exploration, will be communicating directly with sophomore students. Sophomore, junior, and senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact.

Junior, senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact. All first-year students this year are being assigned a specific career coach within the Career Center. Sophomore, junior, and senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact.

Career Prep Week is an online program, starting September 30th, features several videos and live question-and-answer sessions.

Career exploration, will be communicating directly with sophomore students. Sophomore, junior, and senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact.

Junior, senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact. All first-year students this year are being assigned a specific career coach within the Career Center. Sophomore, junior, and senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact.

Career Prep Week is an online program, starting September 30th, features several videos and live question-and-answer sessions.

Career exploration, will be communicating directly with sophomore students. Sophomore, junior, and senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact.

Junior, senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact. All first-year students this year are being assigned a specific career coach within the Career Center. Sophomore, junior, and senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact.

Career Prep Week is an online program, starting September 30th, features several videos and live question-and-answer sessions.

Career exploration, will be communicating directly with sophomore students. Sophomore, junior, and senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact.

Junior, senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact. All first-year students this year are being assigned a specific career coach within the Career Center. Sophomore, junior, and senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact.

Career Prep Week is an online program, starting September 30th, features several videos and live question-and-answer sessions.

Career exploration, will be communicating directly with sophomore students. Sophomore, junior, and senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact.

Junior, senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact. All first-year students this year are being assigned a specific career coach within the Career Center. Sophomore, junior, and senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact.

Career Prep Week is an online program, starting September 30th, features several videos and live question-and-answer sessions.

Career exploration, will be communicating directly with sophomore students. Sophomore, junior, and senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact.

Junior, senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact. All first-year students this year are being assigned a specific career coach within the Career Center. Sophomore, junior, and senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact.

Career Prep Week is an online program, starting September 30th, features several videos and live question-and-answer sessions.

Career exploration, will be communicating directly with sophomore students. Sophomore, junior, and senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact.

Junior, senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact. All first-year students this year are being assigned a specific career coach within the Career Center. Sophomore, junior, and senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact.

Career Prep Week is an online program, starting September 30th, features several videos and live question-and-answer sessions.

Career exploration, will be communicating directly with sophomore students. Sophomore, junior, and senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact.

Junior, senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact. All first-year students this year are being assigned a specific career coach within the Career Center. Sophomore, junior, and senior students will continue to work with any career coach assigned to them as their primary point of contact.