This week we are pleased to announce a number of events to celebrate 10 years of the QuIRK (Quantitative Inquiry, Reasoning, and Knowledge) program at Carleton. We invite you to attend these events to celebrate the hard work that’s been done on campus over the past 10 years to foster the growth of quantitative reasoning across the curriculum.

Carleton Learning Community: Teaching quantitative literacy concepts sponsored by the Library and ITS
Wednesday, October 8: 12:30 – 1:30PM
Carleton Gould Library 344

“No weasel words” (and other intersections of Carleton’s mission with QuIRK)
Scott Bierman, President, Beloit College
sponsored by the LTC and the QuIRK Program
Thursday, October 9, 11:45 – 1:00PM
Weitz Center Larsen Family Meeting Room (WCC 236)
Buffet lunch available for the first 75 attendees

Using Data for the Greater Good
Jake Porway, Founder, DataKind
Co-sponsored by the Convocation Committee and the QuIRK Program
Friday, October 10, 10:50-11:50am
Skinner Memorial Chapel

Cut to the QUIC: What is the Essence of Quantitative Reasoning and How Can We Assess It?
Neil Lutsky, William R. Kenan, Jr. Professor of Psychology, Carleton College
Co-sponsored by the National Numeracy Network, the AALAC, and the QuIRK Program
Friday, October 10, 1:30-2:45pm
Weitz Center Larsen Family Meeting Room (WCC 236)

The Annual Meeting of the National Numeracy Network (NNN) and AALAC Workshop: Enhancing Quantitative Reasoning Across the Curriculum
Co-sponsored by the QuIRK program
Friday, October 10 – Saturday, October 11, 8:00-5:00pm
Weitz Center Larsen Family Meeting Room (WCC 236), Alumni Guest House Meeting Room & Weitz Center 233
Detailed schedules available at http://apps.carleton.edu/quirk/current/

For more information, please contact Mija Van Der Wege, Director, QuIRK Program