Art Treasures/Curricular Resources: Two Teaching Exhibitions

Visualizing Friends and Enemies in the Socialist World

People Places Things: La culture en deçà des clichés

SEPTEMBER 14 – NOVEMBER 14, 2012
KAEMMER FAMILY GALLERY
FALL 2012 AT THE PERLMAN TEACHING MUSEUM
SEPTEMBER 14 – NOVEMBER 14, 2012
Kaemmer Family Gallery
Two small exhibitions connect fall courses in history and French to art objects from the Carleton art collection and on loan from other sources. David Tompkins’s “Visualizing Friends and Enemies in the Socialist World” seminar will analyze socialist propaganda from Russia, China, Cuba, and elsewhere. Under the guidance of Christine Lac, students in introductory French classes and their teaching assistants will explore the cultural significance of people, places, and things as represented by French and Francophile artists.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 1
Art Talk: Two Teaching Exhibitions
Featuring student experts
• 4:30–6:00 p.m., Perlman Teaching Museum and Class of 1980 Commons, Weitz Center for Creativity

Visit go.carleton.edu/museum to learn about other events celebrating the Carleton art collection in its new home at the Weitz Center for Creativity.

Supported by Visualizing the Liberal Arts, with funds from the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation